Preface

The Cogwheel, chosen as the theme of this "M", has been the symbol of George Weitbrecht Mechanic

Arts High School ever since our first principal recognized its importance in the machine. By replacing the treacherous leather belt that had been used in the transfer of power, the cogwheel insured safety. Thus the machine as we know it was made possible, its safety, speed, service, and strength. These qualities we use to represent the divisions of our book: safety symbolized by the faculty; speed, classes; strength, athletics; and service, organizations.

MAN'S MIGHTY ALLY

GOODBYE OLD SCHOOL

Work

*Here is the long-bided hour:
 The labor of years is accomplished.
 Why should this sadness unplumbed
 Secretly weigh on my heart?
 Is it, my work being done,
 I stand like a laborer, useless,
 One who has taken his pay,
 Alien to unwonted tasks?
 Is it the work I regret,
 The silent companion of midnight,
 Friend of the golden-haired Dawn,
 Friend of the gods of the hearth?*

Dedication

To Mr. Delbert Wood:

As the cogwheel stands for safety, speed, service,

and strength, both in a machine and in the tradition of Mechanic Arts, you, Mr. Wood, as a member of our faculty, have proven to us that you truly fit into the make-up of our school. With sincere admiration we dedicate this 1935 "M" to you.

In Memoriam

Mavis Aga

1916 - 1935

Member of the Class of 1935

*And when the stream
Which overflowed the soul was passed away,
A consciousness remained that it had left,
Deposited upon the silent shore
Of memory, images and precious thoughts,
That shall not die, and cannot be destroyed.*

Faculty Safety

The Engineer

*While from the cab,
Everything in this vast body—
Chain, wheel, brake, feels
His calm deliberate control,
His hand moves
And the giant structure thrills
Instant obedience to his will's command.*

To Mr. Lange:

It's the great out-of-doors that he breathes,
And he loves the lakes and the streams,
Where the pine trees are tallest in the densest of woods
There he camps, there he rests, there he dreams.

He's at home where the moose makes his lair,
He follows the call of a bird;
His canoe cuts the waters ne'er sailed before
Where only the wild things are heard.

His shoulders are squared to the buffets of storms,
His step is light on the trail;
Alone with Nature, he smiles at a world
Where sorrow and hatred prevail.

Then here's to a man whom all of us love,
In his guidance our happiness lies;
Though the years of his service have whitened his hair,
Eternal youth shines in his eyes.

We appreciate your vain efforts in trying to teach us to live up to the following rules:

Do your day's work if you can't get out of it.
Strive to make 100 per cent in the evasion of rules.
Obey orders cheerfully, answering with a loud, "Yah."

Do your full duty on time, all of the time, or you'll do time.

Be considerate of others bigger than yourself.
Don't be a "growler" or a "drifter" or a "dud."

 SECOND ROW: Mr. J. J. Berger, Mr. Elmer Wachter, Mrs. Eleanor Adams, Mr. L. M. Robbins, Miss Edith Hall, Mrs. Nettie Dugas.
 FIRST ROW: Miss Mabel Colter, Mrs. Millie Anderson, Miss Helen Bumgardner, Mr. Dietrich Lange, Miss Katherine Tschida, Miss Antoinette Ford.

Faculty

Mechanic Arts, St. Paul's downtown high school, has at its head Mr. Dietrich Lange, widely known as naturalist and author as well as educator. With Mr. Homer Hillard, his assistant, he directs the work of seventy-nine teachers in the instruction of 2225 boys and girls.

The roll of faculty members includes the names of nine alumni: Miss Clemens, school nurse; Miss Billings, teacher of Spanish and Latin American history; Miss Bumgardner, clothing and costume design; Miss Ek, mathematics; Miss Kellerhals, botany and zoology; Miss Bocker, physical geography and astronomy; Mrs. Gilson, teacher of commercial subjects; Mr. Sitzler and Mr. Smalley, mechanical and architectural drawing respectively.

The dean of girls is Miss Mabel Colter, teacher of economics; the visiting teacher, Miss Tschida; and the librarian, Mrs. Dugas. Mr. Raymond has charge of all the music, instrumental and vocal. Modeling is taught by Miss Hall and commercial geography by Mr. Torwick.

Physical education is directed by Mrs. Ransier, welcomed back after two years' leave of absence, and by Mr. Wachter. Miss Ford, teacher of commercial geography, is the author of "My Minnesota", adopted for use in the state, and of "Gopher Tales." Mrs. Anderson is special coach for students in her sight-saving classes.

In the manual training department Mr. Shirck teaches automotive and general electricity; Mr. Robbins and Mr. Berger, woodworking; and Mr. Wright, forge and machine. This department with the entire school honors the memory of Mr. Jacob Zuber, for many years instructor in the machine shop.

FIFTH ROW: Mr. L. A. Torwick, Mr. Charles Duncan, Miss Elmire Moosbrugger, Miss Pearl Heal, Miss Emma Bolt FOURTH ROW: Miss Margaret Muir, Miss Mary Grant, Miss Vera Billings, Miss Vera Strickler, Miss Lucretia Schroer.
 THIRD ROW: Mr. Ralph Brinks, Miss Josephine Nichol, Miss Anna O'Brien, Miss Ruth Kachel, Miss Alice Prendergast, Miss Esther Blase.
 SECOND ROW: Mr. Delbert Wood, Mr. John Nobis, Mr. Andrew Mettling, Miss Anne Kennedy, Mrs. Helen Eldridge, Mr. Edwin Bothe, Mr. Richard Krueger.
 FIRST ROW: Mr. Francis Critchett, Mr. Matthew Garding, Miss Lena Schuhardt, Miss Ruth Reinhardt, Miss Gladys Smith, Mr. Henry Woltman.

Faculty

In the commercial department many students acquire practical experience as secretaries by keeping the necessary records, usually for their advisory teachers. They copy programs, make alphabetical files, type reports, and make stencil copies of tests. They learn the use of the dictaphone and the comptometer. This department includes the Misses Blase, Schuhardt, Strickler, Reinhardt, Schroer, Kachel, and Smith, Mrs. Gilson, and the Messrs. Duncan, Nobis, and Garding; and Mr. Torwick, teacher of commerical geography.

Teachers of foreign language encourage the reading of foreign newspapers, the discussion of living foreign authors and statesmen, and the singing of favorite songs. French is taught by Miss Kennedy and Miss Moosbrugger; Spanish, by Miss Billings; Latin, by Miss Prendergast; and German, by Mr. Woltman, Mr. Bothe, Miss Nelson, and Miss Schroer.

In the history classes events of current interest as well as those of past importance are emphasized. Civics classes, taught by Miss Heal and Mr. Critchett, study city, state, and federal government and make trips to visit the legislature in session. Those wishing a knowledge of South and Central America are offered a course in Latin American history by Miss Billings.

Social problems confronting the people of today are discussed in the sociology classes of Messrs. Mettling and Krueger. Sociology introduced last year as a one term subject is now given in two courses and enrolls over three hundred students. The Misses Colter, Muir, Bolt, Grant and Nickol, Mrs. Eldridge, and the Messrs. Brinks, Krueger, and Wood complete the history department.

FOURTH Row: Miss Annie Ginsberg, Miss Josephine Johnson, Miss Mary Christopher, Miss Frances Ek.
 THIRD Row: Miss Edith Brocker, Miss Grace O'Hair, Miss Elizabeth Moriarty, Miss Helen Scully, Miss May Kellerhals, Miss Hortense Mullane.
 SECOND Row: Mr. Robert Hill, Mr. John Griffin, Mr. Harry Wolcott, Miss Margaret Turnbull, Miss Gladys Rose, Miss Ruth Swift, Miss Eleonora Deem.
 FIRST Row: Miss Mary Copley, Miss Laura Parkinson, Miss Alice Nelson, Miss Daisy Wright, Miss Ruth Creglow, Mr. Edwin McKee.

Faculty

Besides the standard requirements, the English department offers three special courses: Creative writing, introduced last year by Miss Deem, is continued in her absence this term by Miss O'Hair; journalism is taught by Miss Copley and Miss Parkinson; coaching English for those weak in spelling and grammar, by the Misses Johnson, Ginsberg, and Mullane.

Miss Turnbull and Miss Ginsberg are co-authors of "Lessons in English Essentials," used in St. Paul high schools and adopted in other cities: Detroit, Grand Rapids, Minneapolis. Other English teachers are the Misses Scully, Rose, Swift, Moriarty, and Mrs. Kingston.

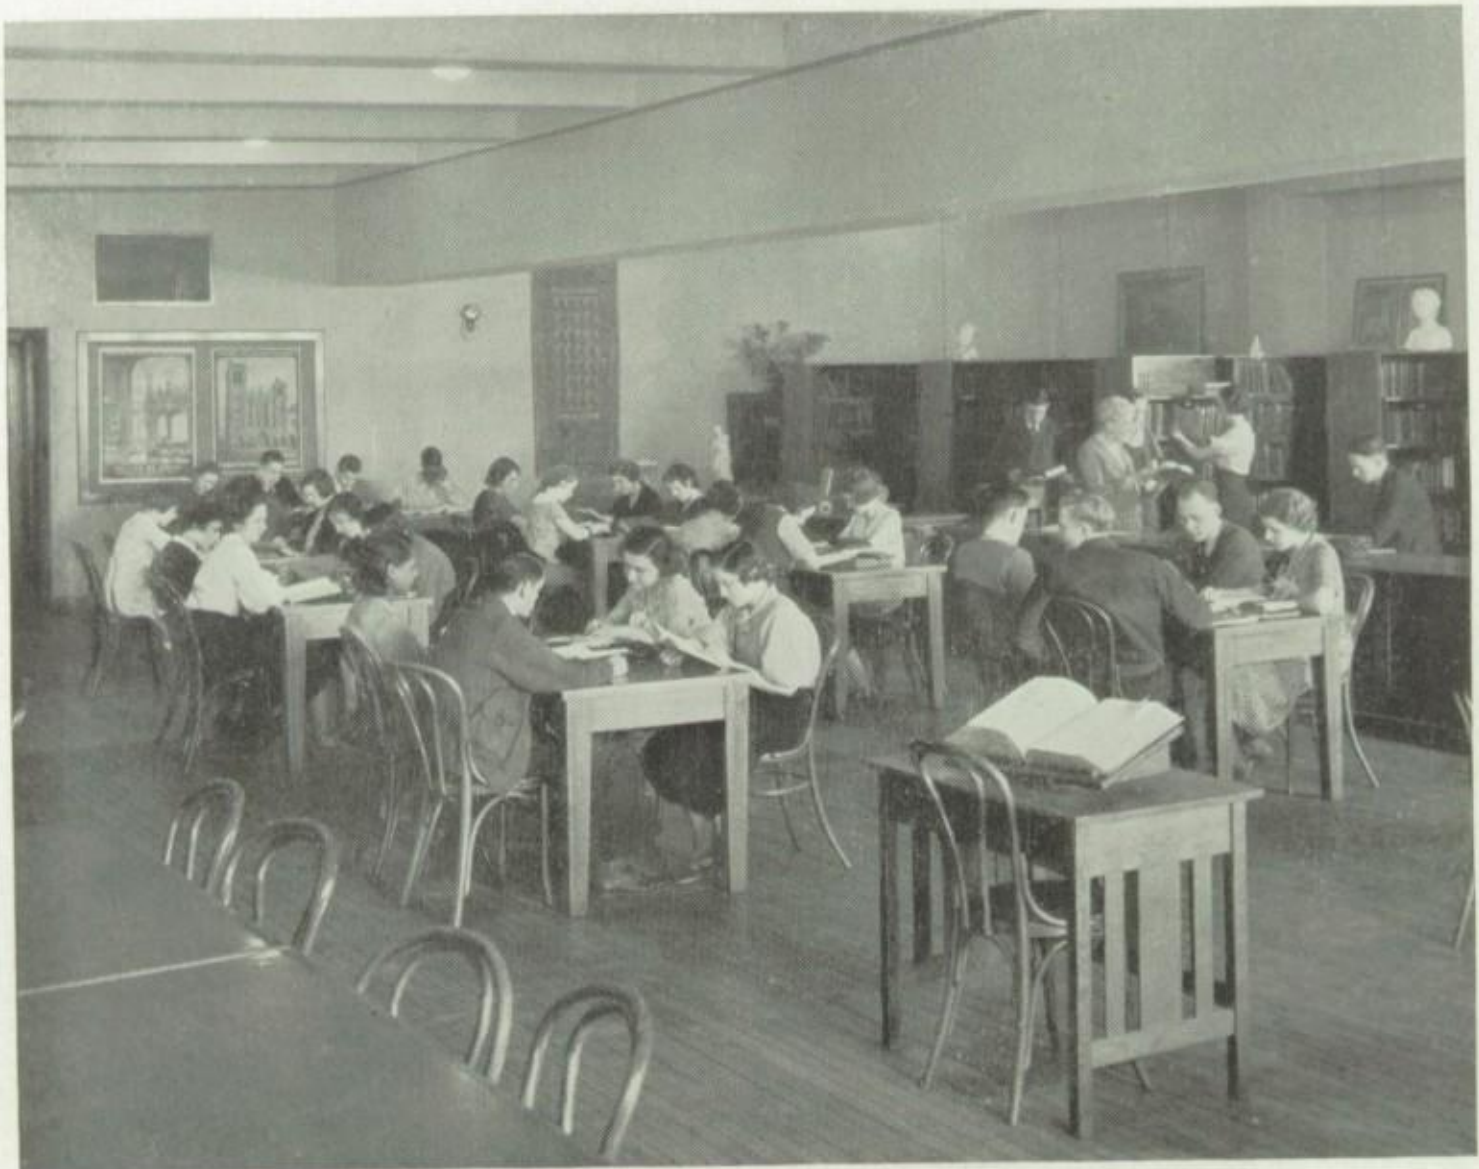

The curriculum of the science department includes chemistry, taught by Mr. Griffin and Mr. Hill; physics, Mr. McKee and Mr. Wolcott; botany and zoology, Miss Kellerhals; astronomy and physiology, Mr. Hill; biology, Miss Creglow.

The mathematics faculty, the Misses Wright, Christopher, Gould, Ek, Nelson, and Creglow offer a complete senior high school course. This includes one term of solid geometry, one of trigonometry, and two of higher algebra.

On the evening of December 20, the faculty gave a party in honor of Mr. Lange at the tea rooms of the Federation of Women Teachers. Mr. Raymond arranged the program. Mr. Hyman Weinstein, '19, first violinist of the Minneapolis Symphony Orchestra, played four selections. Dan Selleck, '32, and the Boys' Glee Club sang carols. Miss Deem and Mr. Wolcott read original poems. Miss Garrity, of the home economics department, was in charge of refreshments. Miss Ford decorated the rooms with festoons of ground pine. Miss Gilbert, art instructor, was general chairman.

Senior Class

The 1935 Senior Class was safely led through all of its undertakings during the past year by George Rysgaard, president; Tony Zenli, vice-president; Katherine Dietsch, treasurer; and Celia Marzitella, secretary. To aid them were the representatives and alternates chosen from every English 7 and 8 class. Mrs. Joseph Gilson, nee Lavinia Casey, acted as class adviser.

Looking back over the past year, we note the many things the senior class has sponsored (and remember the fun which resulted). There were the candy sales held after sixth and seventh periods when home-made candy and penny suckers were sold, the sunlight dances after school in the gym, and the penny collections which were taken to help pay for a new curtain in the auditorium.

The Seniors sponsored the sale of tickets and chose twenty-five girls to act as ushers for the "Romantic Age." They donated five dollars to the Junior Class to give them something to start their year. On behalf of the class, the representatives sent flowers to Mrs. Gilson while she was in the hospital for appendicitis.

For Senior Day, May 28, Louis Rosenberg is chairman of the decoration committee; Grant Liesch, of door; Arthur Simek, orchestra; and Virginia Hoffman, entertainment. The program will commence at the close of the fourth period and will continue until five o'clock. Seniors will be given identification tags which will admit them to the program and the dance. The theme chosen is that of "A Movie Party"—the students will come dressed to represent some movie star. Prizes will be given for the best boy and the best girl costume. The Cogwheel will issue a special six-page edition for the occasion.

Members also looked after the bids for rings, pins, and pictures and decided upon the type of clothes to be worn at graduation.

The Senior Class Play

The senior class play, "The Romantic Age," by A. A. Milne, was presented April 25 and 26 at the school auditorium. Mrs. Florence Fosbroke directed the production.

The plot centers around a romantic girl, Melisande (Louise Dickof), who is waiting for a handsome hero to win her hand. Her cousin, Jane (Virginia Kraus), is a typical matter-of-fact young woman. She loves Bobby (Stanley Boie), an Englishman, who thinks he is in love with Melisande and has already proposed to her, but has been flatly refused.

In the opening scene Mrs. Knowles (Kathleen Cody), Melisande's mother, Jane, and Melisande are seated in the living room. Alice (Lurine Bue), the maid, enters with coffee. Later Melisande goes for a walk. While she is gone, Bobby comes in and talks to Jane. All at once he realizes that Jane is the one he cares for.

About the time the family is retiring for the evening, Mr. Gervase Mallory (Gerald Buetow) knocks at the door. Mr. Knowles (Stanley Hampl) admits him. Gervase is dressed in the attire of a prince and is on his way to a costume dance. But as his car has broken down, he comes to the Knowles' home. As he is leaving, he meets Melisande, who immediately imagines him the prince charming of her romantic dreams.

The Senior Class Play

The second act takes place the next morning in a forest glade. Gervase meets Ern (Faith Gugler), a small boy, and Master Susan (Karl Swenson), a traveling peddler, and has breakfast with them. As he leaves them, he sees a young girl, who is Melisande, coming into the forest. They meet and talk for a long time pretending they are prince and princess. Gervase is still in his costume. As they part, Melisande tells Gervase that he is her lord.

The scene of the third act returns to the Knowles' living room. It is afternoon and Melisande comes home from her morning escapade to find Jane and Bobby together. Bobby has just told Jane that he loves her. Soon Gervase enters; he has come back to thank Mr. Knowles for his goodness the night before. When Melisande sees him in his everyday attire, she suddenly becomes very cool to him. After he has left, she tells Bobby she will marry him. Bobby, however, knows that he no longer loves her and Melisande soon guesses the truth—he is engaged to Jane.

Later Gervase returns in his princely attire to ask Melisande for her hand in marriage. She consents. When he has gone, Melisande immediately begins to study a recipe book.

The orchestra, directed by Mr. E. A. Raymond, furnished appropriate music. Mr. H. E. Hillard, assistant principal, was faculty manager, and Charlotte Mullin was student manager.

Junior Representatives

The Junior representatives were elected by the English 5 and 6 students to assist the Junior class advisor, Miss Edith Brocker. The final election named William Wagner, president; John Zeuli, vice-president; Frank Los, secretary; and Lucille Rozycki, treasurer.

These officers, aided by the representatives, gave several candy sales and a sunlight dance in the gym during the fall term. In December a "Mix-up" dance was put on.

The spring term was opened, socially, with a St. Valentine's dance featuring the Musical Monkeys. This group of musicians is composed of Tony Zeuli, accordion and leader; Emil Jandric, drums; John Valmer, piano; Tommy Adkins, saxophone; and Art Duffy, trumpet. A hilarious balloon contest was also sponsored by the Junior class in the gym.

The next activity undertaken by the Juniors was an afternoon dancing class taught by Mrs. Ransier and Mr. Wachter. These were attended by one hundred fifty students, who paid twenty-five cents for ten lessons. Gladys Ries and Marguerite Dickey were the class committee. The money collected was put into the fund for the J. S. prom.

The chief social event of the spring term is the Junior-Senior prom. This will be held on May 18 in the school gymnasium with a beautiful Hawaiian setting. All Juniors who have paid their dues are eligible. Places in the grand march are assigned in order as those who have paid report to Miss Brocker and give their partners' names.

The Juniors had a "Midnight Frolic" dance on the third of May.

Members voted unanimously to enter in the June "M" a card of congratulations to the graduating Seniors. In this way the Juniors send through the yearbook sincere thanks for the cooperation of the Senior class, and their best wishes for good luck throughout their entire lives.

Sophomore Representatives

After a lapse of ten years during which Mechanics had no Sophomore organization, the Sophomore class was organized last fall under the guidance of Miss Moriarty. Each English 4 class elected a representative and an alternate to assist the advisor and confer with their group on all Sophomore class affairs.

Miss Moriarty has managed to keep her group from taking over all of the entertainments and dances of the school year. But in the "Cogwheel" subscription contest the Sophomores easily won first place.

Dick Winterer, president; Catherine Fee, secretary; and Patricia Johnson, treasurer; are the hardworking officers.

In our Sophomore class Monroe, John Marshall, Wilson, and Maria Sanford Junior high schools are well represented, each school having many of its graduates leading in our clubs.

The chief spring activity sponsored by the Sophomore class was the Talent Revue, put on the tenth of April. Every one in school who played a musical instrument, danced fancy steps or gave recitations was eligible to compete.

A faculty committee acted as judges and awarded the prizes donated by the sponsors. Two highest prizes were subscriptions to the yearbook.

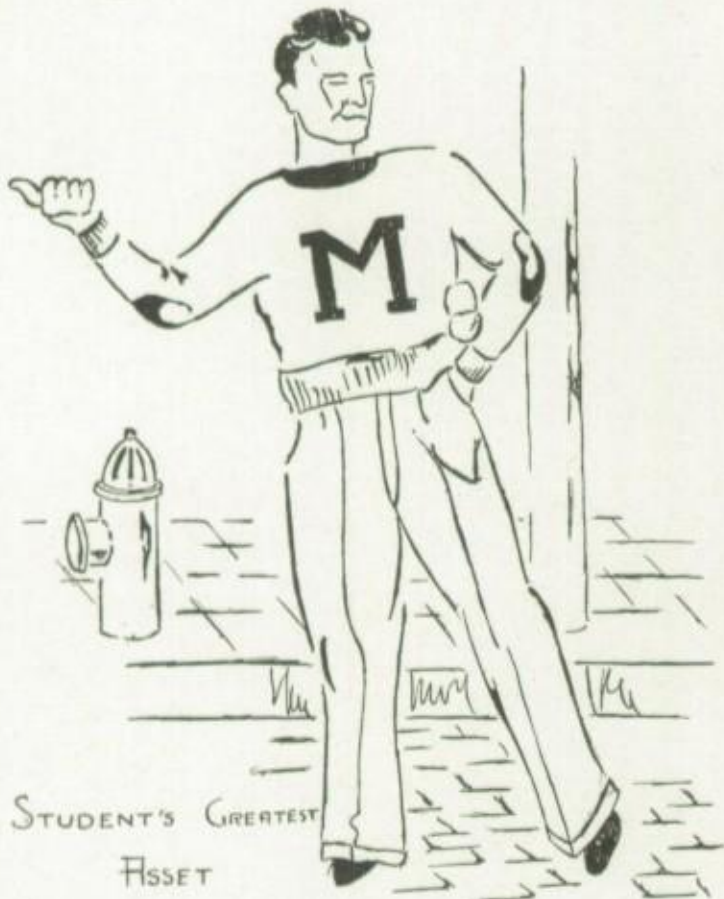

The girls who won prizes were Virginia Harlan for accordion solo, first; Lucille Roz-ycki for syncopation dance, second; Lynell Ewald, for military dance, third; and Marvel Charpentier for buck dance, fourth.

The successful boys were Emil Jandric for xylophone solo, first; Orville LeDuc for juggling act, second; Theodore Randolph for reading selection, third; and Bennie Berkus for saxophone solo, fourth.

The spring activities were closed by a class dance given on the first of May in the school gymnasium.

Physics Club

The Physics Club, new this year, was organized November 23, 1934, under the guidance of Mr. Harry A. Wolcott of the physics department. It aims to stimulate interest in physics by showing its members how extensively physics is applied to present day industries.

Three motion pictures, "Seeing How We See," "Electro Magnetism," and "Invisible Forces," were presented February 27, through the courtesy of the St. Paul Institute.

On a field trip the members inspected the research laboratories of the Minnesota Mining and Engineering Company. At the State Food Testing Laboratories they witnessed the processes of testing different foods.

The president is Edward Turner; the vice-president, Lawrence Pittelkow; the secretary, James Magnus; and the treasurer, Rollin West.

Dr. E. M. Labovitch, assistant of Dr. Hovde of the Minneapolis Weather Bureau, spoke to the club March 21 on "Weather Forecasting". In his talk he explained the functions of the different weather instruments and of the numerous departments of the bureau.

On April 3, Dr. J. M. Rysgaard, head of the Hamline University physics department, addressed a large gathering of members and friends. His subject was "The Sun's Secrets as Revealed by the Spectroscope". The talk was illustrated by lantern slides and drawings in color.

BACK ROW: J. Goswish, H. Goldish, R. Hultengren, J. Bisnow, J. Foster, B. Kask, O. Bisnow.

Chemistry Club

The Chemistry Club under the direction of Mr. John Griffin, instructor in chemistry, is organized for the purpose of interesting students in the uses of chemistry in everyday life. Meetings are usually held every other Wednesday.

At a party on January 15 science games of skill were played and refreshments were served. Paul Toher was reelected president; Robert Roberts, vice-president; and Everett Holes, secretary-treasurer.

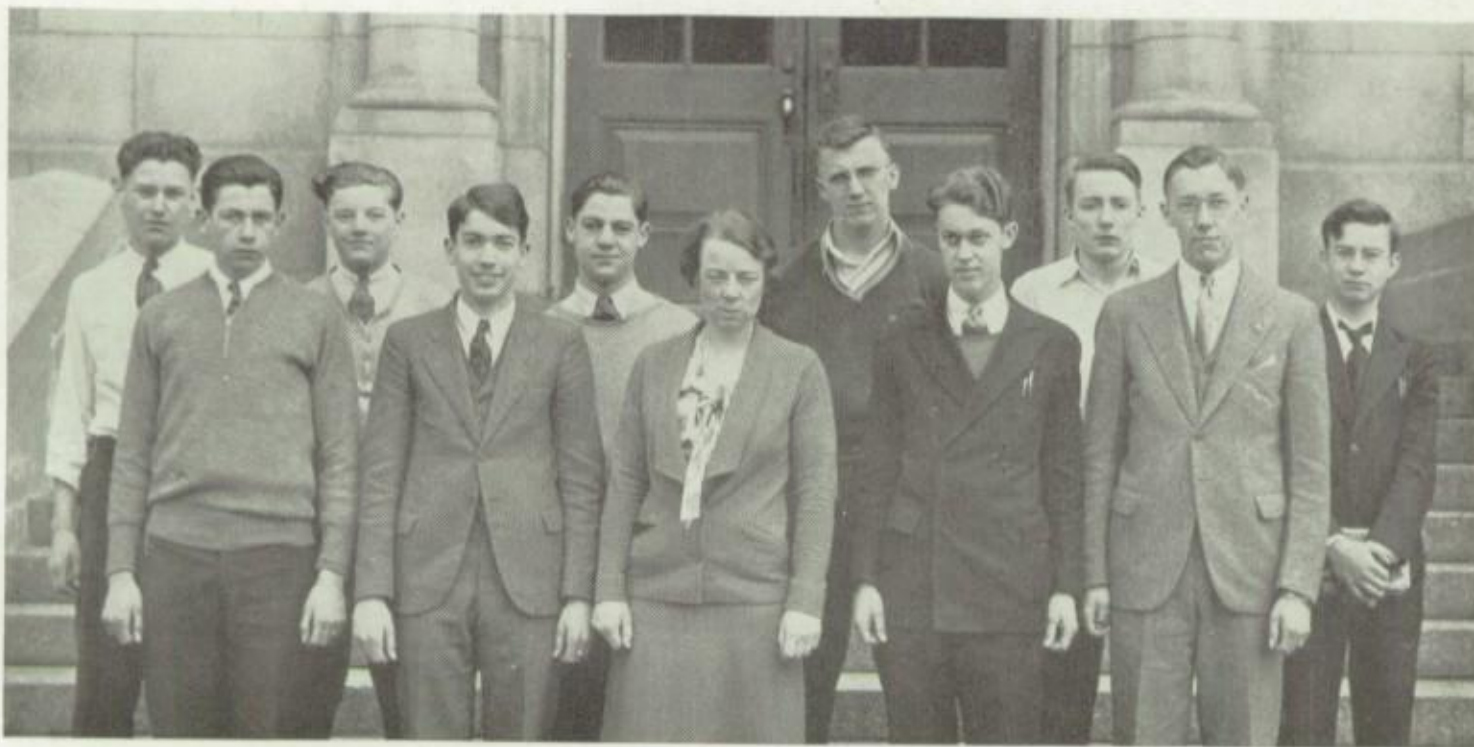

The club visited the University of Minnesota Chemistry Laboratory, The Minnesota Mining Company, The Weather Bureau, and the State Food Laboratory. The construction of atoms and molecules was explained by Mr. E. H. Schefflet of Macalester College.

At the first meeting of the spring term Marcus Stohl and Calvin Cravath demonstrated and spoke on how glass is made.

A field trip was made to the St. Paul airport. A skit was given for the activities assembly by Paul Toher, Marcus Stohl, Violet Johnson, and Catherine Turner. On April 9 a lecture illustrated with slides was given by Marcus Stohl and Robert Roberts.

Nature Club

The Nature Club is a new organization formed last fall and advised by Miss May Kellerhals. Its purpose is to promote knowledge of the ways of nature.

George Rysgaard is president; Lawrence Pittelkow, vice-president; and Gerald Buetow, secretary and treasurer.

On November 10 the club hiked along the Minnesota River bottom. One beautiful Saturday morning, February 16, the club set out for Lake Vadnais in search of a small animal called a hydra. After looking in vain all morning they went on to Battle Creek and then by the fish hatchery in a successful hunt for skunk cabbage and liver worts.

On Thursday, March 7, Miss Payne of the University Farm School gave a talk and showed slides of early spring birds.

For the spring project the club has built four bluebird houses and twelve wren houses. These houses have been put up in farm yards and woods.

Three of the members of the club—George Rysgaard, Arthur Jauss, and Franklin Perrin—studied the natural history of Itasca State Park. They camped in the park from April 13 to 19.

GUNNING FOR BIRDS WITH A BAYONET

French Club

The French Club—Le Circle Francais—is maintained to make students of the advanced French class more proficient in reading and speaking the French language and appreciating the national literature.

This year the officers of the club are president, Marguerite La Barre; secretary, Evelyn Longevin; and chairman of the program committee, Phyllis Mickelson.

Every member of the club is responsible for an equal amount of work. Contributions consist of reports on current events and on short stories read outside of class. Of course, all conversation is held and the reports are delivered in French.

Le Circle Francais is not all work. Members tell jokes, produce plays, sing songs, and have spell-downs.

Every meeting is opened with the singing of "La Marseillaise." Sometimes other songs are sung, among which are the folksongs, "Au Clair de la lune," "Madelon," "L'Alouette," and "Frere Jacques."

One very interesting program was the producing of a scene from "M. Perichon," the play which was being read in the advanced French class. Those who took part were Emanuel Roseby, Ray Edstrom, Phyllis Mickelson, and Esther Tisler.

The members of Le Circle Francais find other ways of enjoying themselves during their meetings. They work cross-word puzzles.

This club remains small, for only those students who are studying advanced French, are allowed to be members. The meetings are held during the advanced French class period once a week.

Miss Elmire Moosbrugger is the adviser of Le Circle Francais.

BACK ROW: Felger, Reichle, Lundquist, Rysgaard, Hitzemann.
 THIRD ROW: Neitzel, Anderson, Mueller, Bachmeir, Stein, Toher, Wegworth.
 SECOND ROW: Lightner, Dedolph, Oppenheimer, Schneller, Webber, Boecher, Rieck, Nelson, Blatzheim, Dunn.

German Club

The German Club meets on the first and third Friday of every month. The fee is fifteen cents a term. Anyone interested may join.

The members enjoyed a fall pow-wow at Harriet Island and a Christmas party in the beautifully decorated German shack.

At the home talent meeting Dorothy Rieck gave a reading in Italian dialect; Ruth Gallaher, a piano selection; Chester Satterberg, two numbers on the trombone; Phyllis Brinks accompanied herself for two vocal selections; and Faith Gugler gave "Barbara Fritsie" in German dialect. At all meetings there was group singing of German songs.

The club was organized about thirty years ago to help students of German understand the language and customs of the German people and to serve also as a social organization. One of the foremost promoters was Miss Amalia Nix, who was a German teacher here.

When Mechanic Arts was moved into the present building, the German Club was called the "Schiller and Goethe Verein". All the records were kept in one big volume which is now in the keeping of the club advisers.

During the period of the World War it was disrupted, but afterward it was revived again with the assistance of Miss Tschida. This year to carry on the purpose of the club, Otto Lange gave a talk on Germany, his native land, German readings and dialect poems were recited and German folk songs sung at every meeting.

The advisers are Miss Schroer, Mr. Bothe, and Mr. Woltman. Kathleen Cody is president; Evelyn Pearson, vice-president; Ruth Gallaher, secretary-treasurer; Phyllis Brinks, pianist; and Arlene Koberg, program chairman.

 FOURTH ROW: Ray, Conlon, Woessner, Stewart, Snell, Sirek, Serba, Massey, Dim, Dudovitz.
 THIRD ROW: Davy, Wojcik, Smolik, Nierocercz, Adams, Randolph, Talty, Forbes, Wardell, Towey.
 SECOND ROW: Schoeneman, Nienhauser, Rajala, Draeger, Solberg, Stemper, Nelson, Norheim, Leahy.

Latin Club

The Latin Club, originally organized to interest students in Greek and Roman mythology, now also produces plays.

The group, which meets once a week, is advised by Miss Alice Pendergast. The officers are elected each term. This term the president is John Kirby, and the secretary, Grant Liesch.

At the fall welcome assembly a skit called "Orpheus and Eurydice" was presented. A play "Delenda est Cartago," written for the club by George Snell, was given at the spring welcome assembly under the direction of Grant Liesch. During the spring term the club worked on the presentation of a play called Plautus' "Menaechmi," which some of the members saw at Carleton College when guests of the Latin department.

Three members participated in a National Horace Translation Contest held in commemoration of the two thousandth anniversary of the birth of Horace, a Latin writer. The translation of lines one to thirty-six of Epode II was the task assigned. The translation could be made in poetry, blank verse, or prose. Three state awards were offered, and these winning papers will be entered in the national contest. The national prizes are to be awarded on Horace's birthday.

 Those not in the picture: Anderson, Bartlett, Brahmer, Tien, Luedke, Saunders.

Spanish Club

El Circulo Espanol.

The aim of the Spanish Club is to give members a better understanding of the customs, literature, and music of the Spanish speaking countries.

In regular programs, plays have been given, including "El Palacio Triate," "Mi Naves Espanol," "Ganarse la Vida," "Chispita," "Nochebuena," "Ter-esita Mia," and "En Casa De Dona Paz."

During the Christmas season the members made ten scrap books containing pictures of Spanish speaking countries, and gave them to the Mexican children at the Neighborhood House.

March 28 the Spanish club presented a fiesta in the activities assembly.

Dialogues were presented during the regular club meetings such as "La Fonda Imperial", played by Ruth Delano, Inez Ziska and Jack Flasher, and "La Criada Nueva" played by Clifford Bartlett and Marie Maurizio.

Miss Vera Billings is the adviser of the club, which meets on alternate Mondays. Clifford Bartlett is president; Leslie Teien, vice-president; Ruth Delano, secretary; George Williams, treasurer. The program committee consists of Aida Foss, James Brahmer, Jack Flasher, Marie Maurizio, and Catherine Turner.

THREE SPANIARDS BUT NO SENORITA

BACK ROW: Grant Liesch, Miss Rose, Miss O'Hair, Leo Hudak, Gerald Buetow.
 SECOND ROW: Leroy Frommer, Louis S. Rosenberg, Marion Krivanek, Marguerite McIntyre, Christle Hammar, Lucille Rosycki, Curtis Carlson.

Assembly Committee

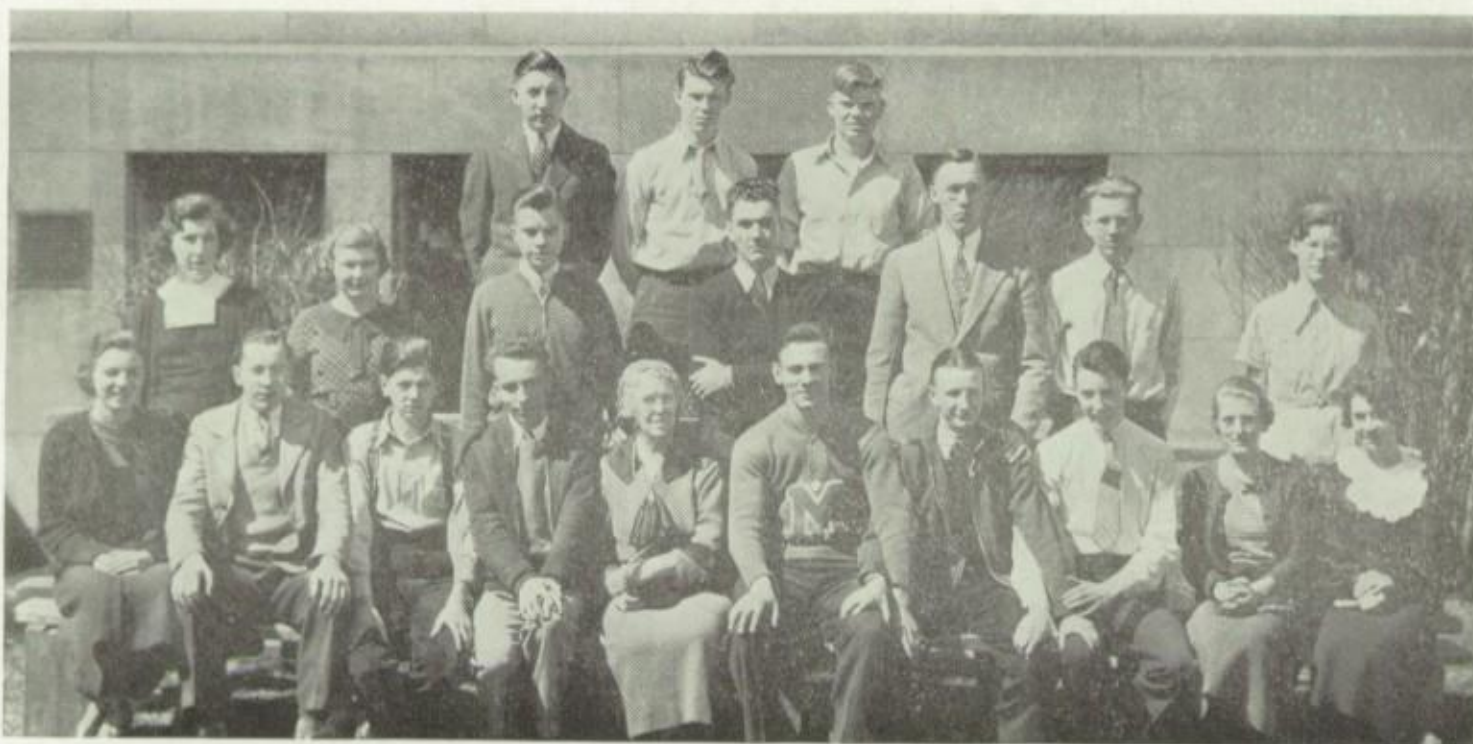

Previous to the fall of 1933, the planning of the assemblies was in the hands of the teachers. In September of that year, the Student Assembly Committee was organized. This group of students was chosen by Miss Grace O'Hair, who supervised all the work.

The theme of the activities assembly, held March 27, was "Amateur Night." The plan of the assembly was written by a group from the assembly committee and each club was represented in some way. In November, the theme was "A Courtroom." Each club was again represented, producing some scene to be judged.

This group was also responsible for securing the Hamline University Choir to sing twice during the year.

Assemblies were given celebrating the three hundredth anniversary of public high schools; announcing the honor roll; advertising the Senior Play by a skit "Teapot on the Rocks"; and advertising the "M". Rev. Mr. Beal of the People's Church delivered an Armistice Day address. Mr. Seril Gerber gave an account of the International Peace Movement Convention at Brussels, Belgium.

The student chairman of the committee was George Rysgaard.

BACK ROW: Joe Irber, Lyle Hendricks, Walter Kuhlman.

SECOND ROW: Cleonora Kosek, Jane Schuneman, Milton Hartig, Richard Pavlicek, Gerald Buetow, Walter Moe, Fern Draeger.

Honor Art

Four boys won the five coveted honors in a contest among fifty advanced art students for the original division pages of the yearbook.

Milton Hartig drew the engineer, typifying safety, also the three automobiles, symbols of speed.

James Speckman drew the gasoline station attendant to represent service, the motto of the Clubs.

Gene McCormick produced the worker, signifying strength for athletics.

Walter Kuhlman, the youngest, drew the oiler to represent humor.

James Mitchell, a graduate of last year, drew and cut the linoleum plate for the fly leaf.

Other contestants, many very successful, are found in the honor art group.

For the first time the rendering of the compositions was done in wash of four or more values. This added difficulty of technique made it necessary for the engraver to employ halftone plates in contrast to our former flat work on the zinc plates.

Honor rank is accorded to students whose work is marked by originality, humor, rhythm, and finish.

BACK ROW: Appleton, Hartigan, Ales, Zeller, Presthus, Ikhaml, Roberts.
 THIRD ROW: Lechtman, Pampusch, Bartlett, Le Mire, Johnston, Kuechenmeister, Klotz, Buzicky, Hedlund.
 SECOND ROW: Conlon, Norton, Peterson, Martinson, Phillips, Smith, Reichow, Pittelkow, Hardwick, Dotson, Kirby.

Mu Alpha

Each English 8 class forms a branch of the Mu Alpha Literary Society, which meets weekly during regular class periods. Each group elects its own officers and appoints its committee to arrange programs.

A play by Lady Gregory, "Spreading the News," and a debate, "Resolved: That it is worthy to study Shakespeare in high school," were given in Miss Deem's fall classes. In Miss Copley's class a play, Uncle at the Talkies, was presented. Edna St. Vincent Millay's "Two Slatterns and a King" entertained Miss Turnbull's class. Talks were also given on Robert Service, Joyce Kilmer, John Masefield, Rudyard Kipling, Robert Benchley, Emily Dickinson, and Stephen Leacock.

Mrs. Kingston's Mu Alpha originated the plan of reading essays written by students of the class. The best essays are selected and read by the president during part of the meeting.

In Miss Turnbull's group the subject of magazines and magazine writers was discussed starting with the earliest editions and with the writings of Horace Greeley and William Cullen Bryant. Topics on criticism were "Leading Critics of Today" and "The Development of the Field of Criticism." A critical essay written by Ike Hoover was read.

In Miss Druck's classes eight pupils gave talks on essay writers.

Advisers of the classes are Miss Margaret Turnbull, Miss Mary Copley, Mrs. Elizabeth Kingston, and Miss Geraldine Druck, substituting for Miss Eleanora Deem.

BACK ROW: McConnell, Kirby, Miller, McGeehan.
 THIRD ROW: Kall, Elliot, Hedlund, Greenberg, Gerber, Buckhalz.
 SECOND ROW: Liedholm, Kehr, Davis, Leahy, Fisher, Becker, Sadek.
 FIRST ROW: Mrs. Dugas, Price, Dietsch, Flynn, Krivanek, Herwin, Johnston, Kosiak, Bennet, Rickard.

Library

The Library Staff under Mrs. Nettie Dugas, school librarian, assist the students by finding books called for. They repair books, keep volumes in their proper places on the shelves, care for the library files, mount pictures, and clip papers and put them in bindings.

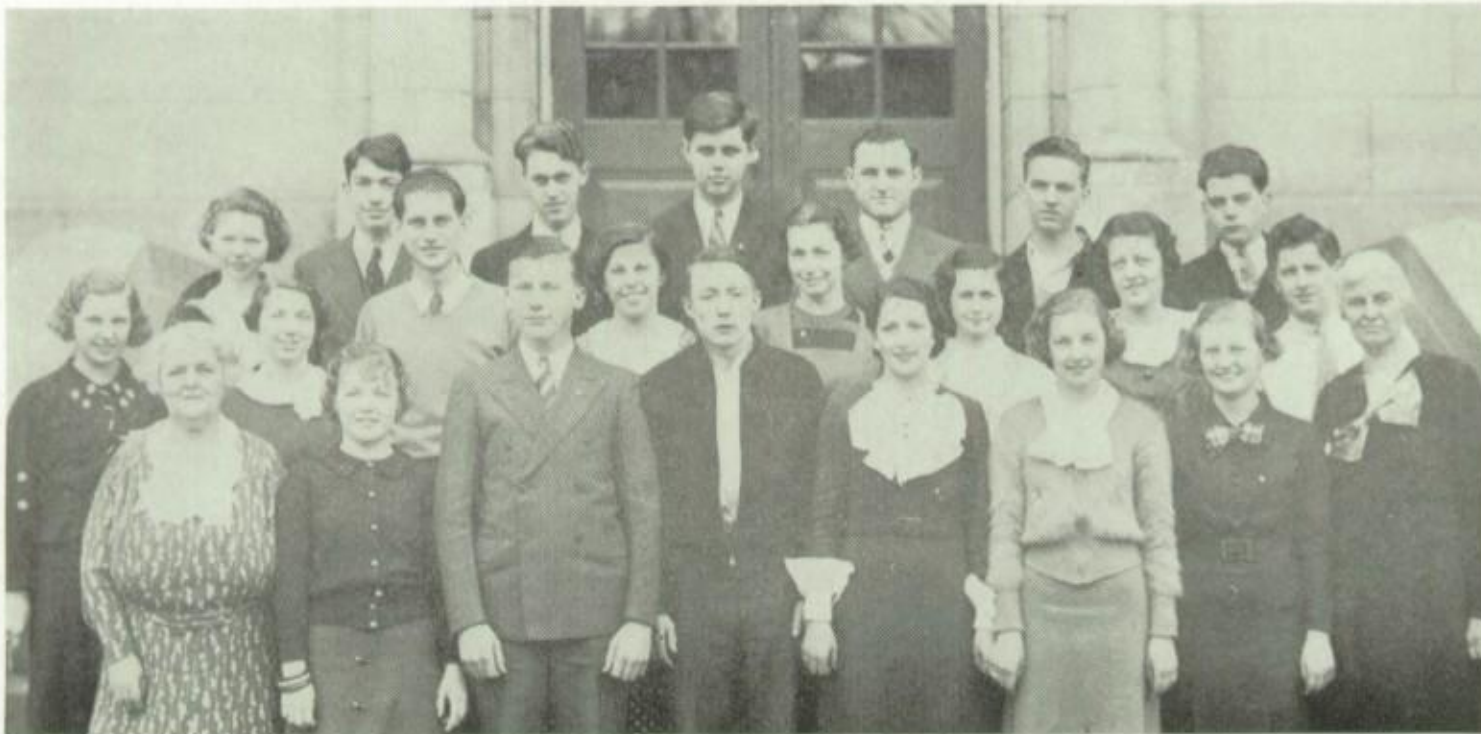

The staff has no officers and no social activities. This term in order to earn one-half credit, each member had to report upon a pamphlet of the New York Book Review.

The library now possesses three of the group of six oil paintings. The group, The Evolution of the Book, is a reproduction after the originals by John W. Alexander in the Library of Congress. Of this series the library has Oral Tradition, The Manuscript Book, and The Printing Press. These copies were given by the classes of 1931, '32, '33, and '34.

Investigation showed that an average of 350 books are taken out during the day.

One of the recent additions to the library is the bound pamphlet file, compiled by the staff. This makes available information more recent than that in books. About six hundred pictures are included in the picture file, rich in illustrations on animals, homes, authors, etc.

The Emporium recently gave the school a collection of books on Apparel Arts. The oldest book is the Babylonian tablet, dated 2350 B. C., bought from the collection of Edgar Banks.

BACK ROW: Mary Marum, Larry Pittelkow, George Rysgaard, Dwight Bohmback, Nate Verson, George Yench, Louis S. Rosenberg.
 SECOND ROW: Pearl Olson, Dorothy Bergstrom, Bob Michel, Dorothy Foerster, Georgina Pooley, Mildred Fee, Marie Huss, Russ Bumgardner.
 FRONT ROW: Miss Parkinson, Kay Cody, Frank Perrin, Grant Liesch, Lurine Bue, Virginia Kraus, Evelyn Pearson, Miss Copley.

Quill and Scroll

The Eleanora F. Deem Chapter of Quill and Scroll, the international honorary society for high school journalists, has increased its membership by nineteen this year. The first meeting took place in Miss Colter's office where initiation of the editors of the "Cogwheel" and election of officers took place. Dwight Bohmback, editor-in-chief of "Seedlings," received an honorable mention bar on his pin.

The next meeting was held at the home of Franklin Perrin where reporters of the "Cogwheel," members of the creative writing class, and editors of the "M" were initiated both formally and informally.

April 9 the chapter gave a "Sunlite" in the gym. Those in charge were Frank Perrin, George Rysgaard, George Yench, Dorothy Foerster, and Lurine Bue. Tony Zeuli's orchestra, the "Musical Monkeys", furnished the music. The proceeds went into the fund for the joint dinner with Central High School Quill and Scroll chapter.

This dinner was a fitting climax for the activities of the year. The dinner was held in a down town hotel and was paid for by the club treasury with a small additional charge to each member.

The president is Franklin Perrin; vice-president, Kathleen Cody; secretary, Grant Liesch; treasurer, Lurine Bue. The advisers are Miss Laura D. Parkinson, Miss Eleanora F. Deem, and Miss Mary E. Copley.

BACK ROW: Edith Mattson, Alice Wojick, Cliff Baker, Robert Hansen, George Snell, Clyde Boy, Bronte Smith, Mildred Kruschke, Ethel Sausen.

Seedlings

Under the guidance of Miss Eleanora F. Deem, creative writing teacher, the new literary magazine, "Seedlings," made its first appearance in January, 1935. It is composed entirely of verse and prose written by Miss Deem's creative writing classes.

The foreword states:

The expression "Creative Writing" has had various interpretations. To us it means attempting to express in words our reactions to life in its many phases, as we come daily in contact with it.

The title "Seedlings" is taken from:

"Beauty chokes my throat, and I cannot speak
My thoughts. They lie in my heart
Like seedlings grown in the warm spring earth.
As the years pass, they struggle upward,
And perhaps some day will burst into flower."

—MARIDEE LA POINTE.

Of the January issue, Dwight Bombach was editor; Dorothy Bergstrom, associate editor; Arthur Jauss, business manager; Dorothy Foerster and Margaret Cunningham were associate business managers; Gaylord Budde was circulation manager; Florence Brown and Doris Wigen were associate circulation managers.

The faculty manager was Mr. H. A. Wolcott; the typographical adviser, Miss Mary E. Copley; and the treasurer, Miss Vera Strickler.

BACK ROW: Bernard Ikhaml, Marcus Stohl, Warren Smith, Berthald Aldes, James Lufkin, Jack Brotman.
 THIRD ROW: Faith Gugler, Margaret Towey, Juleen Munson, Christle Hammer, Virginia Kraus, Charles Hedlund, Lillian Braun.

The "M" Staff

The "M" for this year was prepared by Mary Marum, editor-in-chief; Lawrence Pittelkow, associate editor; Louis Rosenberg, managing editor; Leo Hudak, business manager; Joe Bisnow, sports editor; John Miller, advertising manager; Virginia Kraus and James Lufkin, snap-shot editors; Jack Brotman, circulation manager; and other members of the staff.

The work was directed by Miss Parkinson, advisor; Miss Gilbert, art advisor; Mr. Wolcott, business manager; and Miss Strickler, banker.

Mounting the senior panels was done by Mary, Lawrence, Louis, and Everett Holes. In charge of the faculty section were Phyllis Brinks, Florence Ommodt and Faith Gugler.

The department of girls' athletics was edited by Lillian Braun assisted by Evelyn Flynn and Anna Mae Ziegler.

The club section was prepared by Maryella Smith and Virginia Hoffman. Cartoons were made by James Butler, Peter Pampusch, and Roy Proue. The art division pages were the work of Miss Gilbert's honor art students. The typing was done by Juleen Munson and Jeanette Owen.

BACK ROW: Koberg, Pearson, Pooley, Nelson, Verson, Ohlson.
 THIRD ROW: Woloshin, Sith, Bloomberg, Budde, Gaetke, Jauss, Rysgaard, Huss, Olson.
 SECOND ROW: Erickson, Klatz, Cohn, Foerester, Pampush, Brotman, Johnson, Fee, Cutting.
 FIRST ROW: Conlon, Goldberg, Yench, Liesch, Bue, Perrin, Cody, Michel, Miss Copley, Miss Strickler, Mr. Wolcott.

Cogwheel Staff

The "Cogwheel," the Mechanic Arts newspaper, is published every other Friday, at five cents a copy.

In September the "Cogwheel" received the International Honor Rating.

On February 22, the "Cogwheel" published a George Weitbrecht memorial edition of which 2,100 copies were printed, many being used by the alumni for invitations to the "M" Club dance.

On March 19, the "Cogwheel" received for the third time in succession, the Medalist Award from Columbia University. This is the highest award which can be given to a high school newspaper.

At the National Press Convention held at Moorhead October 5 and 6, Maridee La Pointe, editor-in-chief, '34, received third place for an editorial page, second place for her humor story and third place for her front page.

Lurine Bue and Kathleen Cody are associate editors of the Cogwheel. Grant Liesch is the managing editor; George Yench, sports editor; George Nelson, assistant sports editor, and Robert Michel, advisory room editor.

Franklin Perrin is editor-in-chief of the paper. Miss Mary E. Copley is the adviser.

Cogwheel Agents

To each floor are assigned two floor captains, whose duty it is to distribute the publication to the room captains and collect the money from them. The floor captains receive the papers from the circulation manager, Jacob Brotman, and turn the money over to the business manager, Nathan Verson.

The yearbook will also be handled in this way by the same organization.

The well-organized group of "Cogwheel" room-reporters, headed by Bob Michel, kept the school paper supplied with news from their respective advisory classes. They tried to get each pupil's name in the paper at least once. They encouraged news of outside interests: sports, trips, parties.

BACK ROW: Reader, Frank, Kohl, Baker, Haugan, Gehrke, Mahson, Dempsey, McIntyre, Barnes, Goldman, Henington.

Home Economics Club

The Home Economics Club is supervised by Miss Garrity. The meetings are held every other Thursday and consist of informal chats, entertainments, and serving refreshments. Many helpful hints are recorded from these chats by the secretary.

The club aims to bring together girls who are interested in learning points in home management and in social and business etiquette.

No dues are asked. The club is strictly social.

At the end of the school year a party was given. Each girl did her part to make it a success. Bunco was played throughout the afternoon and prizes were given. Refreshments were served.

Girl Reserves

To promote fellowship and high ideals of personal conduct and service to others among girls of high school age is the aim of the Girl Reserves. This club is affiliated with the Young Women's Christian Association.

Under the direction of Miss Edna Gould, adviser, meetings are held every second and fourth Wednesday of the month. Mrs. Bradshaw, who has charge of all high school clubs and attends all meetings, is the Y. W. C. A. Girl Reserve secretary.

A doughnut sale is held every year for the purpose of raising money for the G. R. camp, at Grace Dodge, Lake Elmo, which is attended by many girls every summer. The delegates last year were June Phillips, Kay Cody, Marguerite Dickey, and Dorothy Paetz.

Montgomery Ward's is taken over one day a year by the Girl Reserves, who receive a percentage of the gross sales. This spring June Phillips is general manager; Estelle Reichow, personnel chairman; Marguerite Dickey, phone chairman; and Pearl King, circular chairman. The various sections of the building are assigned to different girls.

The service projects this year were making doll clothes and scrap books for the Neighborhood House and working at the Clothing Center. A Christmas dinner was given to a needy family. Christmas carols were sung at Bethesda Invalid Home, Bethesda Hospital, Linnea Home, the Church Home, and Lyngblomsten Home for the Aged.

Every Thursday is Activity Day at the Y. W. C. A. for senior high girls. The activities open to all G. R. members are chorus, dramatics, swimming, handicraft, and dancing, taught by members of the Y. W. C. A. staff. Every year a group of the most active girls, who have belonged to the club for a year and a half, are allowed to earn G. R. rings, by attending a series of Ring Wearers meetings, and by doing special service. They are awarded these rings early in June.

The officers are June Phillips, president; Georgina Pooley, vice president; Dorothy Paetz, secretary; Estelle Reichow, treasurer; and Kay Cody, inter club member.

Cogwheel Coeds

The Cogwheel Coeds, under the supervision of Miss Mabel A. Colter, dean of girls, have had a busy year. They made twenty scrap books for the Preventorium as their service project.

A Welcome Party and an Initiation were given in October and February for girls new to the school. At the Welcome Party in October, a skit was presented. In February a program was given, presenting a juggling act, a reading, and a piano medley of popular song hits.

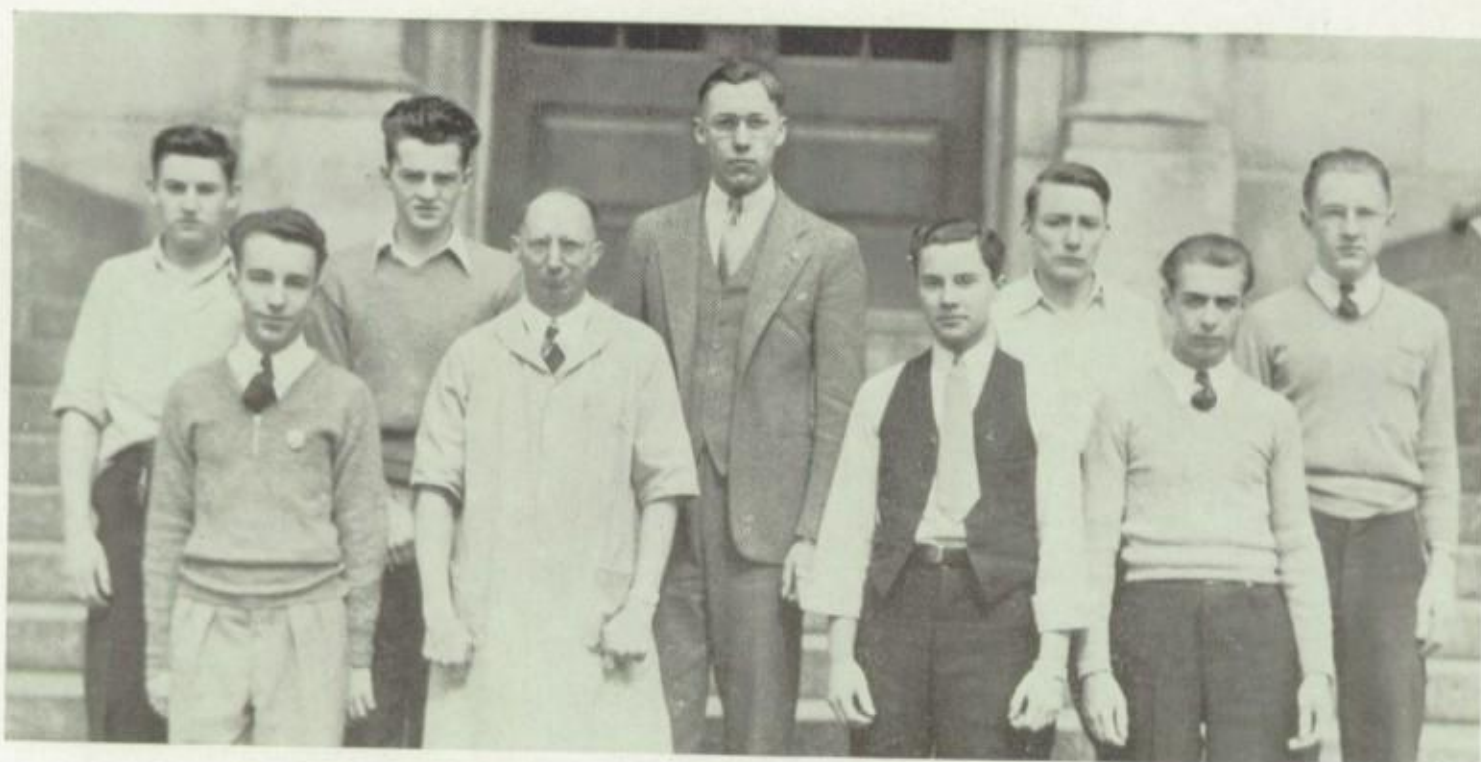

A chow mein tea was given and also a marshmallow roast. The latter was quite novel, being held in Miss Colter's room, in November, where the marshmallows were roasted over an electric stove.

The president of the club is Christle Hammar; vice president, Mildred Fee; secretary, Evelyn Longevin; and treasurer, Alida Le Fevere.

The annual farewell picnic was held at Phalen Park in May and all newly elected officers were in charge of arrangements.

Atelier

The Atelier Club was founded by Mr. Ralph E. Smalley, architectural drawing teacher, who wanted to help his students appreciate beauty in architecture.

An inspection tour to the Minneapolis Institute of Art was made to study the periods of architecture.

At a joint meeting of the Washington Architectural Club and the Atelier low cost housing was discussed by Mr. E. H. Lund, who outlined the Federal plan for rebuilding the Mt. Airy district, just northeast of our school. On a later date Mr. William Ingemann talked on the problems confronting an architect.

Mr. Conrad Hamm talked on the problems of an architect to a combined meeting of the clubs of the two schools held at Washington. An exhibit of the year's work in architectural drawing was posted.

The head draftsmen of the spring term were Chris Falowski, Robert Clare, Kenneth Silgen, and John Milton. File clerks were John Guttman, Wallace Bentley, Gerald Buetow, and Pat Truesdell. Appointments were made by Mr. Ralph Smalley on a basis of last semester's averages.

Other talks were given by officers of the club. The massier, Stanley Hampl, spoke on the progress of the club; the sous massier, Ed Carlson, discussed its activities; Everett Holes, secretary, explained its name, "Atelier."

Pan-American Club

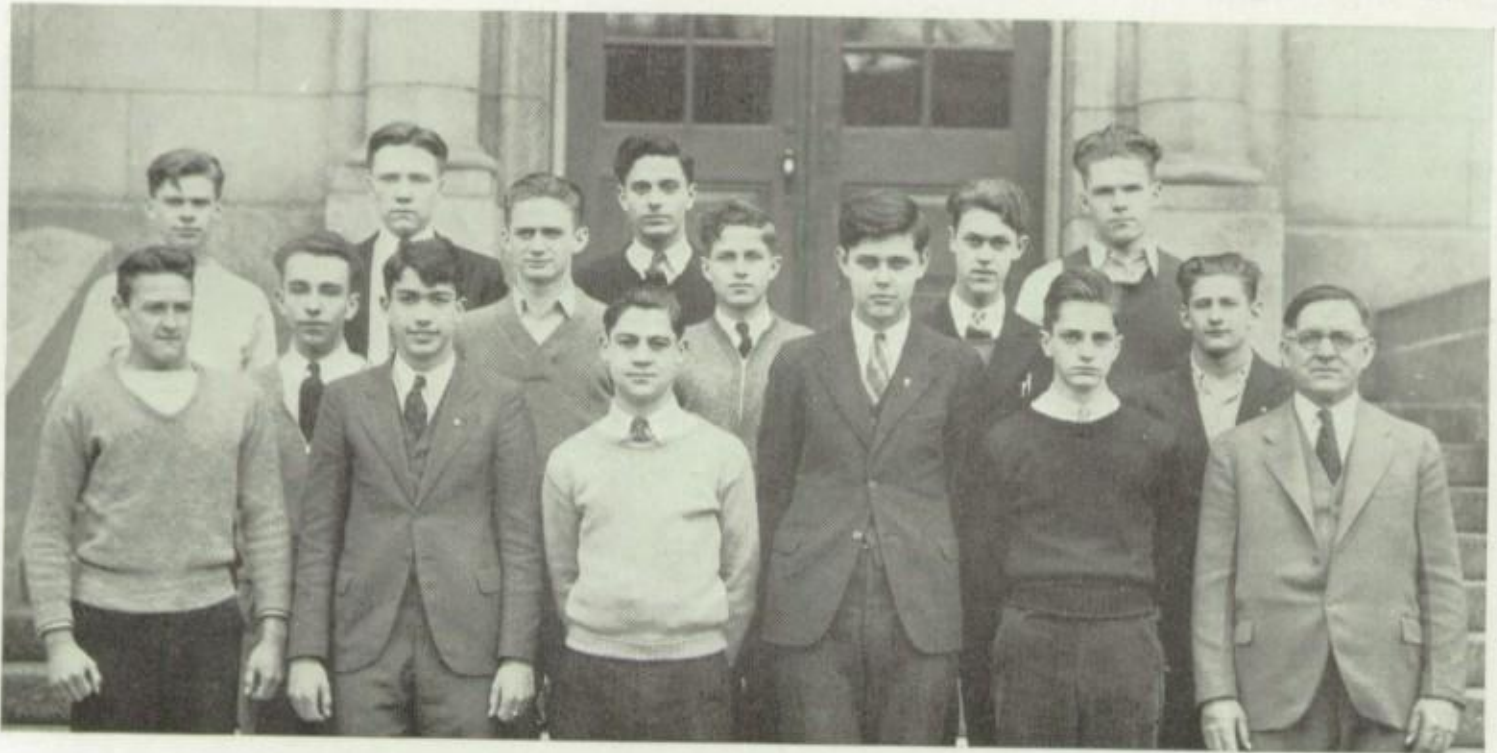

The Pan-American Club, organized in September, 1934, is affiliated with the Pan-American Union at Washington, D. C. Its purpose is to develop closer cultural, commercial, and financial relations among the republics of the American continent, thus promoting independence, good will, cooperation, and in general, better understanding.

The club carries on correspondence with other Pan-American clubs in the neighboring cities through the Pan-American Union at Washington. Mildred Fee, the secretary, is in charge of the correspondence.

The programs furnish supplementary material for the classes in Latin American history.

Delegates from the Club attended the International Relations Club Conference held at Macalester and Hamline Colleges, the second week in April.

Miss Vera Billings is the club adviser. Einar Anderson is president; Mildred Fee, vice-president and program chairman, and Virginia Lewis, secretary. Those on the program committee are William Walton, Lucille Adams, Inez Ziska, Nellie Sioris, and James Callahan.

BACK ROW: James Butler, Paul Toher, Robert Roberts, Marcus Stohl.
 SECOND ROW: Everett Holes, Robert Hansen, Rollin West, George Rysgaard, Cliff Baker.

Peace League

The Mechanic Arts Peace League was established in February with Mr. R. G. Krueger as adviser. The purpose of the organization is to make a study of current international affairs, and, in particular of the causes and prevention of war.

An election of officers, held at the first regular meeting, made Arthur Jauss president; Dwight Bohmback, vice-president; and Lawrence Pittelkow, secretary.

The plan followed at the meetings is to have first, a short talk by a member or an outside speaker, and then an open discussion. At the first meeting, an explanation of the relations between Italy and Abyssinia was given by Everett Holes and James Lufkin.

On April 8, Helen Grant, a leader in student peace activities at the University of Minnesota, spoke to the members about the different peace movements in action throughout the colleges and high schools of the country. She told of the differences in the various beliefs and of what the organizations had accomplished.

Later a bulletin board was set up in the second floor hall and posters concerning war and disarmament were shown and changed every week.

On April 12, three members of the Peace Club, Dwight Bohmback, James Lufkin, and Paul Toher, went with Mr. Krueger to a peace gathering and banquet at the University of Minnesota.

Sky Club

The Sky Club meets every Tuesday under the supervision of Mr. Daniel Shirck, teacher of automotive electricity. It furthers interest in aeronautics.

During the year talks were given by members of the club. "American Air Engines and Aerial Tours in California," was discussed by Audrey Bann. Charles White spoke on "Earth Inductor Compass." Tom Dougherty talked on "Different Types of Planes." Vernon Peterson discussed the "Construction of the Wing."

Don Copeland, '33, former president of the Sky Club, talked on "Recent Development in Aviation." October 9, Del Snyder of the Northland Aviation School, Wold-Chamberlain Field, Minneapolis, addressed the club. A film depicting development of aircraft was shown by the St. Paul Institute, October 16.

In October a field trip was taken to Holman Municipal Airport, where inspection of the buildings and planes was made.

An airshow was given December 18 in the school library. Model planes and the various parts of real airplanes were featured. Violet Poirier, senior, was holder of the ticket which won a free airplane ride offered by the club as a door prize.

Audrey Bann is president; Charles White, vice-president; Loretta Harrington, secretary; Katherine Ryan and Elfrieda Pieper are librarians.

Stamp Club

The Stamp Club, after a lapse of two years, was reorganized last fall by Miss Daisy Wright. Meetings were held on Thursday every other week. At each meeting special study was made of the stamps of a country and of the people behind them.

This year the general topic has been South America. The first countries visited were French, Dutch, and British Guiana. In the plan of an imaginary trip by water and land the group toured the other countries of South America. At most meetings three members took charge. At the February meetings, Miss Billings, teacher of Spanish, told about her trip to South America.

The largest stamp collection is owned by Jack Sommer, who has 5,500 different varieties; Maryella Smith won her collection in a world-wide contest. Miss Wright, the adviser, has two sets that she values highly: a Chinese airmail set of 1921 and a Graf Zeppelin set of 1930.

An exhibit of the prized sets and collections of the members was held on the ninth of May. On the committee for the exhibit were Jack Sommer, chairman, Louis Benepe, William Bailey, Louis Rosenberg, Maryella Smith, and Miss Wright.

The officers of the spring term were Louis Rosenberg, president; Maryella Smith, vice-president; Marguerite McIntyre, secretary; and James Geraghty, treasurer.

Office Force

Business-minded girls take charge of the details of work in the administration offices of Mr. D. Lange, Mr. Homer Hillard, Miss Katherine Tschida, Miss Grace McGuire, and Mr. John Nobis. They are under the direct charge of those for whom they work except those girls in Mr. Lange's office, who are under the supervision of Miss Ruth Swenson, Mr. Lange's secretary.

Nurse's Staff

Miss Calla Clemens, school nurse, has eight girls working for her this year. Each girl spends at least one period a day filing, checking records, and keeping materials and the office in order. Three girls spend two periods and from 8:00 to 8:45 writing excuses for those students who are to be out for medical treatment, issuing admit slips for the absent, and checking the absent lists.

The staff helped with the Mantoux Tests at our neighbor school, St. Paul Vocational, in January, and smallpox vaccinations in February.

Our own students were given the Mantoux Test for tuberculosis, March 11, 13, and 15; again Miss Clemens' staff assisted the doctors.

 FRONT ROW: Barry, Hodgen, Volmer, Los, Propko, Miller, Hampl, Marsh, Schmiler, Enkel, Emerson, Rubbelke.

Traffic Squad

The Traffic Squad, under the supervision of Miss Pearl Heal, has been organized for the past ten years. Boys who seek appointment on the squad must be recommended by their advisers, and have a scholastic and deportment record satisfactory to the office.

Virgil Marsh is captain; James Enkel, first lieutenant; Ray Emerson, second lieutenant; and Frank Los, third lieutenant.

Stage Force

Mr. Smalley and the stage force are kept busy designing and constructing scenes for assemblies and pageants. Their chief project this year was to prepare for the senior play.

The boys are appointed to their official positions by Mr. Smalley, according to special ability displayed. The manager now is Don Monteith; assistant manager, John Leitner; property man, Leonard Edstrom; carpenter, Earl Zeller; electrician, Wayne Harrington.

BACK ROW: Hennessey, Snyder, Hammerstrom, Jessen, May, Thompson, Carr.
 SECOND ROW: Verhulst, G. Ales, Grunz, Gould, Anderson, Curt, Monteith, Moore, Harvey, Hoffman.

 FIRST ROW: Richards, Mueller, Leibmen, Carpenter, Hitzemann, Koll, Dingle, Jepson, Robertson, Wahoski.

Music

The Orchestra is under the supervision of Mr. E. A. Raymond, music instructor. On May 3 the orchestra was entered in the state music contest playing the overture "Der Freischutz" by Carl Von Weber.

The Orchestra, directed by Mr. Raymond, played at the two performances of the senior play, April 25, 26.

Climaxing a year's intensive practice, the Mechanic Arts Choir of seventy-five voices, gave its first concert, December 15, over KSTP. They also sang at churches including the Arlington Hill Presbyterian, the Hamline Methodist Episcopal, the Central Methodist, and the Knox Presbyterian.

Music

The band under the direction of Mr. E. A. Raymond has played at all pep assemblies and at all football games, marching on the field, forming the large "M" and also the letter of the opponent. They played a concert at the Music Festival at Mechanic Arts Auditorium at Christmas time and also at the Spring Music Festival at the Auditorium.

The Boys' Glee Club of twenty-six voices, directed by Mr. E. A. Raymond, gave its first program at the Mechanic Arts vaudeville show.

FRONT ROW: Paul Nelson, Madeline Ray, Mrs. Nettie Firebaugh, Melvin Carr, Virdon Strey.

The Lunch Room Staff

The lunch room of Mechanic Arts is a complete and modern cafeteria. Here students and faculty may secure a vitamin-packed lunch for the small sum of fifteen cents.

The distribution of plants helps to create a cheery and home-like atmosphere. In December the amaryllis is always in lovely bloom. In spring tulips and foliage plants give gay color.

Alumni visiting the school are sure to go to the lunch room to greet Queen Nettie.

The members of the lunch room staff are under the direction of Mrs. Nettie Firebaugh. All student assistants must pass the Mantoux test.

Mrs. Ellen Anderson is the head cook; Mrs. Phyllis Schiesel, general helper; Mrs. Susan Harmer, pastry maker; Mrs. Anna Johnson, dishwasher; Mr. Raymond, checker and cashier; and Mr. Duncan, auditor.

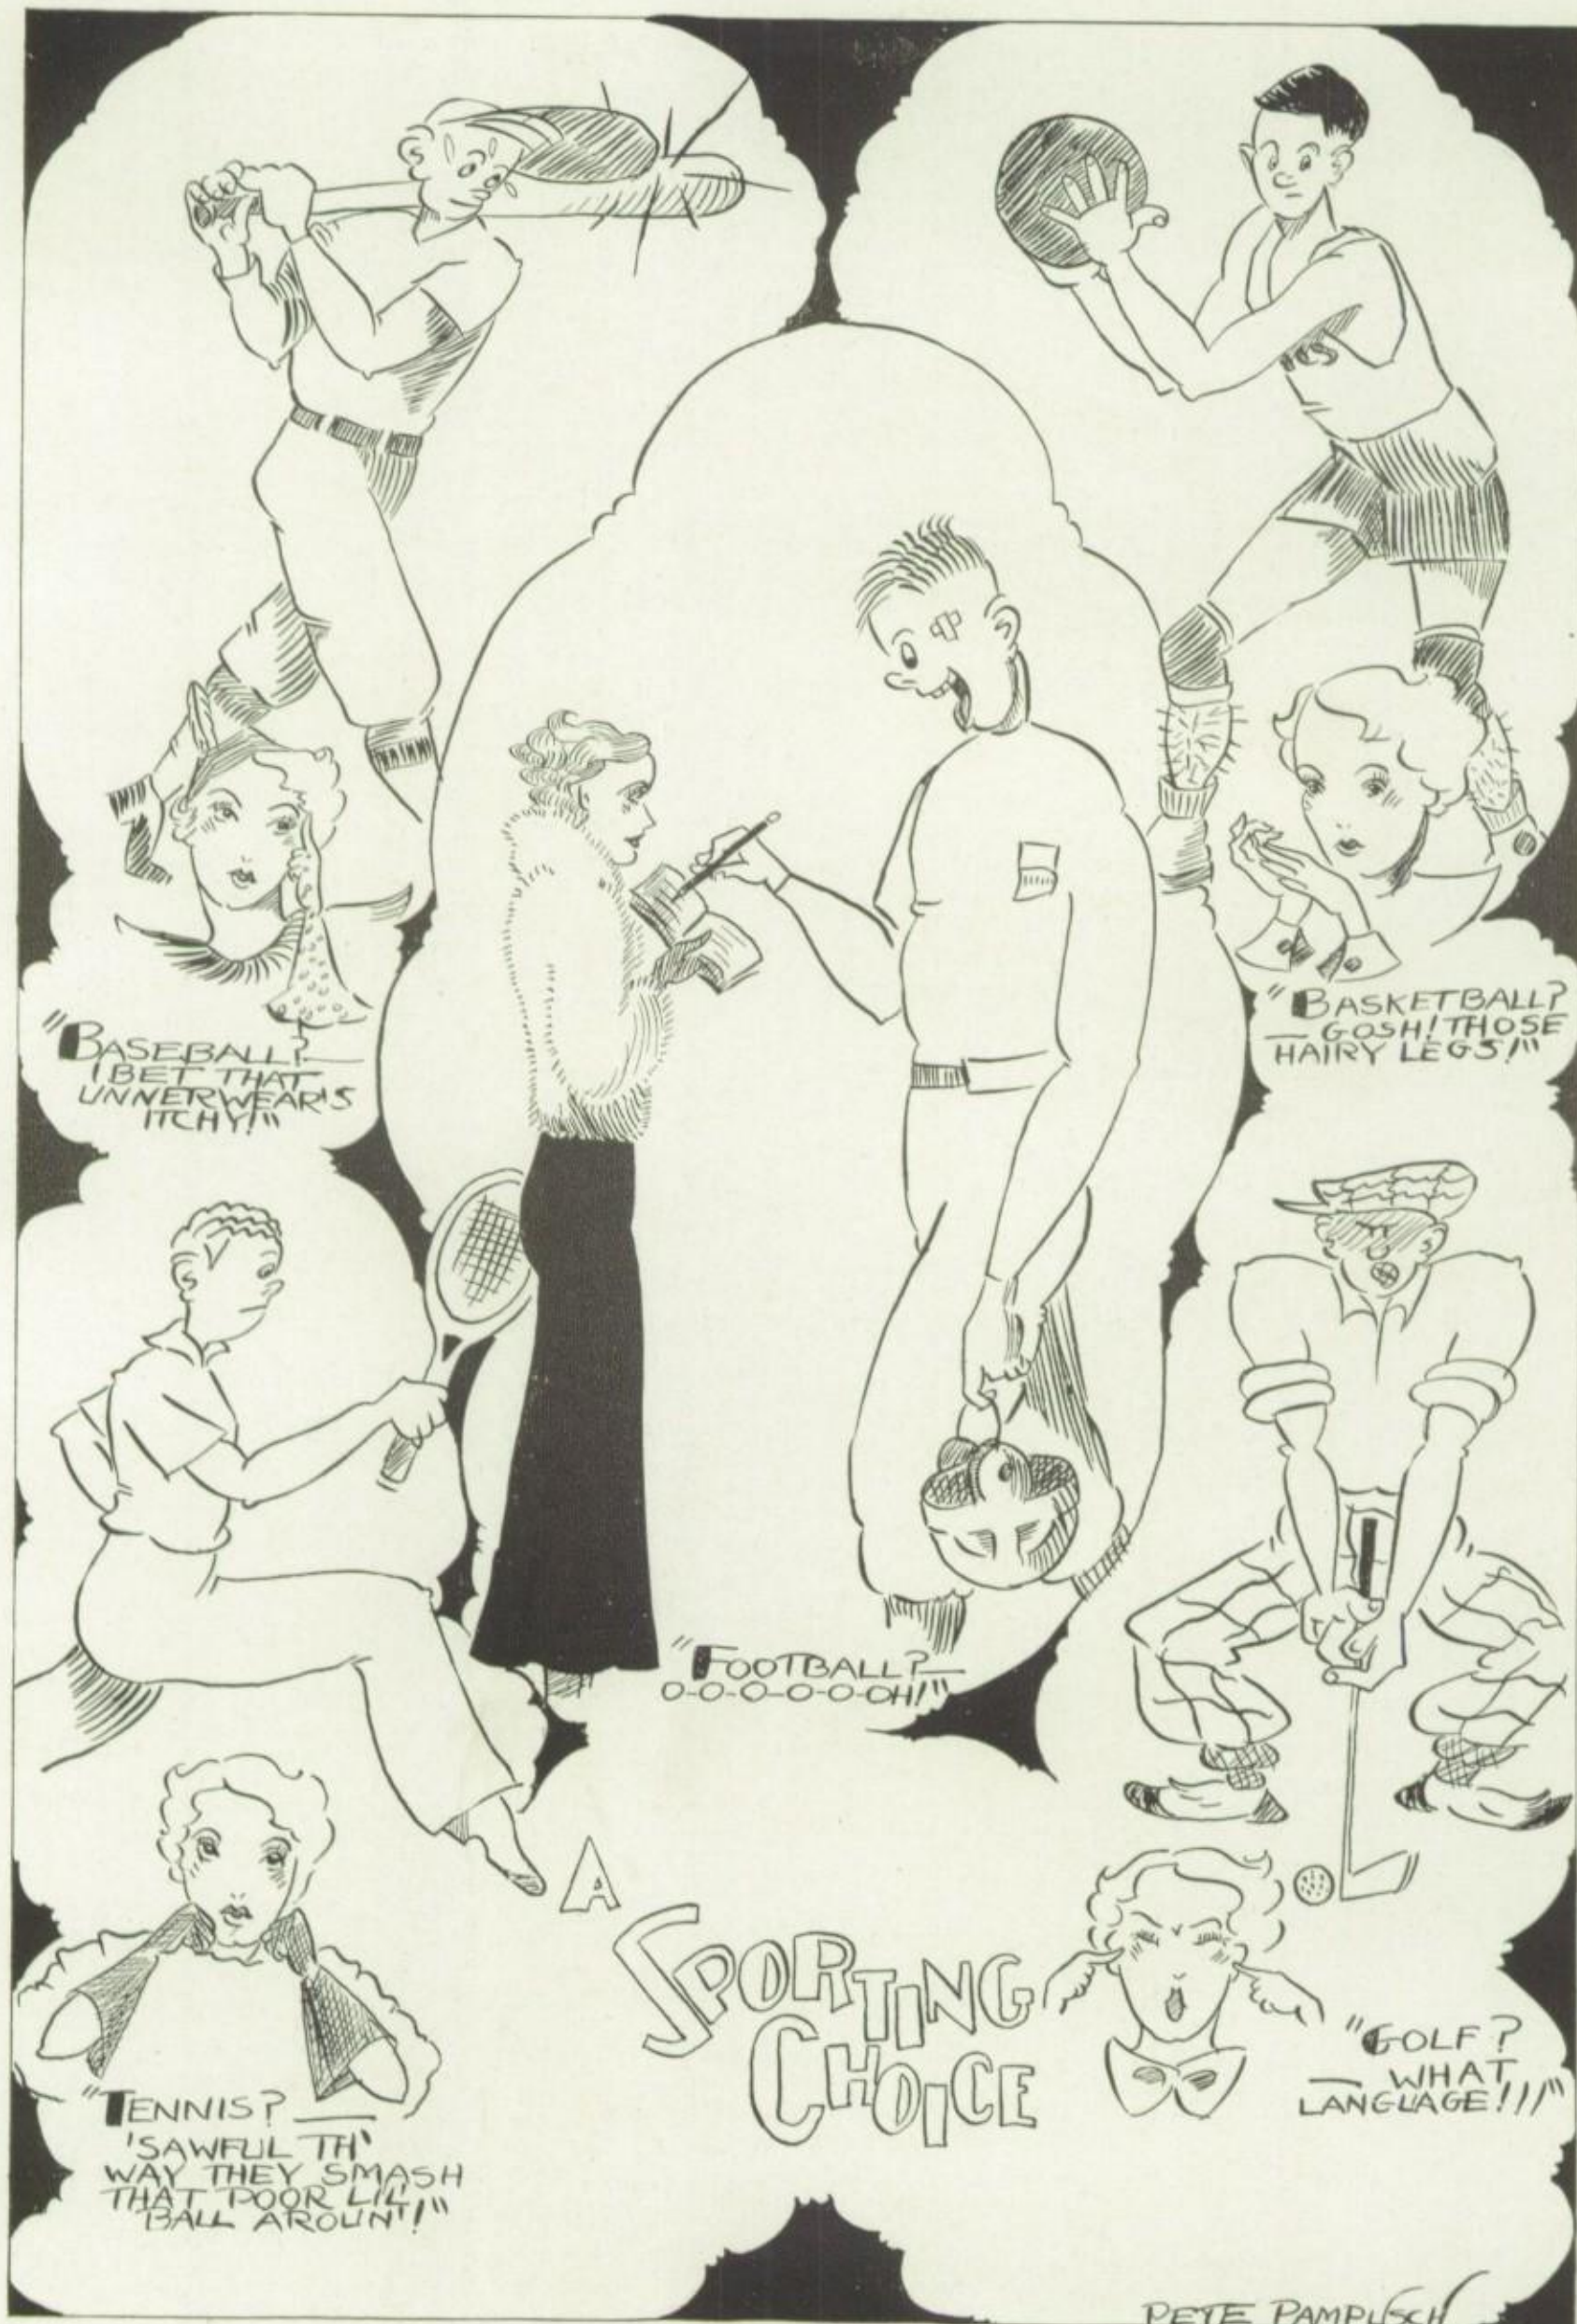

There is one student member at the ice-cream counter, one at the hot-dog and hamburger counter, and one at the candy counter.

Football

Rewarded with a fine turnout for the '34 football squad, Coach Wood and assistant Coach Cohen built up a team that tied Washington for second place in the city standings. The veterans were Nathan Verson, Marlin Hedberg, and "Pinky" Nelson, captain.

Opening the season of conference games, the Blue and White defeated Johnson 7-6, Friday night, October 5, at Highland Park. Strane received a pass from Ales to score for the Trainers, and Ales kicked the extra point. Starring for the Trainers were Strane, Hanson, and Ales, the most consistent ground gainer.

Nelson led Mechanics in defeating Harding 6-0 on the night of October 11. The Trainers played a good game behind the excellent kicking of Eric Hanson. Ales and Verhulst plunged through the Harding line for the Trainers' winning points.

The traditional game between Central and Mechanics resulted in the defeat of Mechanics 12-6 Friday night, October 19, in a hard fought game played in a downpour of rain on a muddy field. The Trainers' only touchdown resulted after a march over half the field. Carr and Winnick started by going off on long runs, and Ales skirted over the goal line for the long deserved touchdown.

Football

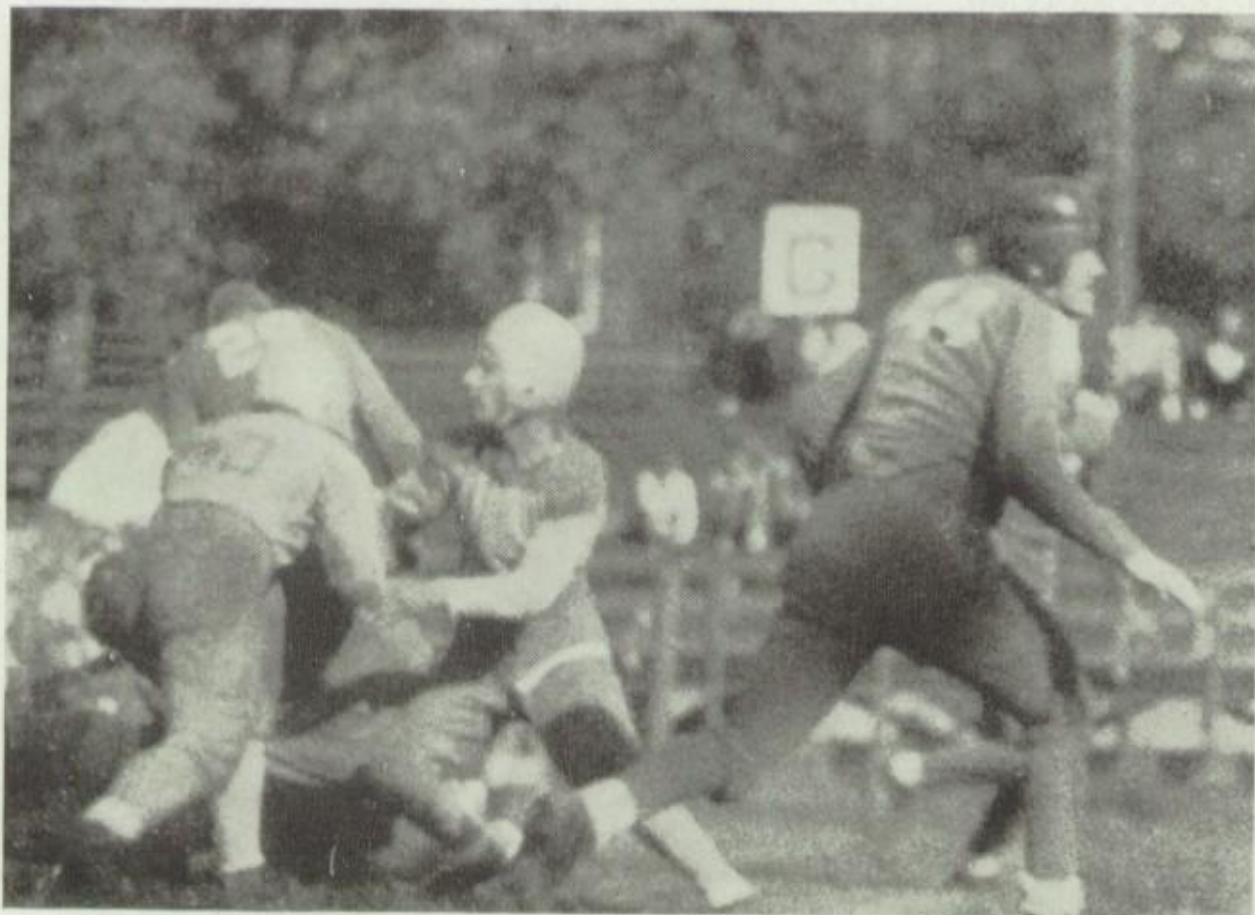

The Blue and White met Washington October 25 in the fastest game in the city conference resulting in a 12-12 tie. "Chuck" Kreyer went over for the Presidents' first score. The Trainers retaliated when Carr took the ball for 25 yards, and Ales for 10. Then Winnick lateraled to Ales, who skirted around end for the touchdown. Again the Trainers scored, Ales galloping down the sidelines to put Mechanics in the lead. To even the score, Kreyer returned the Trainers' punt 55 yards and Anderson ploughed through for the final score.

Mechanic Arts smothered Humboldt Indians 26-6 Thursday night, November 8. The Indians scored their only touchdown when Bloyer intercepted a pass and ran 94 yards for the thriller of the game. Ales made the first of his three touchdowns and kicked the extra point. Wood's tricky boys scored again when Ales passed to Tallen, who lateraled to Carr, who trotted over for another score. The same double trick pass resulted in the third touchdown, Ales carrying the ball. Carr opened up the fourth touchdown; Ales again scored and passed to Johnson for the extra point.

But the fighting, driving line must not be forgotten. These heroes make victory possible by their blocking and by their tackling.

The 1935 football team will be captained by Frank Biagi and Fred Bader.

The All City reserved its halfback position for Dan Ales. Frank Biagi, end, and Vernon Michaud, guard, both received honors on the second team.

Basketball

Although considered out of the running, because of the loss of last year's entire championship team, Mechanic Arts has had a successful basketball season under the guidance of Coach Leonard "Doc" Torwick.

The team won their first two games, with University High and North Saint Paul. December 5, they took their third game, from the Concordia Comets, by a score of 27 to 23. In their last pre-season game, however, the Trainers were stopped by Minneapolis Vocational, 31 to 19.

December 14, the Trainers opened their conference season in a contest with Central, their arch rival. Although Central was picked to win, Mechanics put up a good fight before succumbing to a last-half rally by the Minutemen. The score was 25 to 20.

In the second conference game, Humboldt beat the Trainers by a score of 29 to 18. The Indians displayed excellent form and came through with an easy victory.

Mechanics dropped its third straight game of the conference season to Harding, 23 to 15. This game was marked by the appearance of Mechanics' sophomores, who played most of the time.

Mechanics snapped out of its losing streak to defeat the luckless Johnson quint January 18. This victory apparently was the spark needed to start the Trainers. January 25, they turned on the highly favored Washington quint and defeated them, 17 to 16. The game was won in the overtime period by Tommy Dill, who was fouled and sank his free shot to provide the margin.

Basketball

Mechanics continued its winning streak by knocking Central from the league leadership by a 26 to 23 victory.

On February 8, Humboldt's Indians put an end to the Trainers' championship hopes by a 21 to 14 victory. Mechanics led at the half, but a determined rally by Humboldt in the last quarter won the game. January 15 the Trainers were again defeated by Harding, 17 to 11.

Mechanics scored their second victory over Johnson on January 22 in a thrilling game, the score of which was 18 to 17. In the last contest of the season, Mechanics tripped Washington, 24 to 21. Although the Presidents led at the half, the Trainers came back to finish strong. This victory left Mechanics in a tie for third place in the conference with 5 wins and 5 losses.

During the season, the play of Bob Presthus, guard, stood out. He was closely followed by Tom Dill and Jack Graham. John Fahey, Gordon Murray, Gail Brooks, and Don Sanford also turned in good performances. Earl Evenson and Stanley Smith, who became ineligible at the mid-year term, were missed by the team.

Fight and the refusal to accept the odds which were against them were the principal features of the team.

Track Team '34-'35

Eleven veterans faced Coach "Doc" Torwick at the beginning of the 1934 track season.

In the University relays, Mechanic Arts qualified more men than any other St. Paul high school, but scored in only one event, a third in the 65-yard low hurdles by Gerald Grunz. Grunz placed fourth in the low hurdles at the Carleton College relays.

Track Team '34-'35

In the city meet at the Macalester College field, the Blue and White scored 30 points to place third. Johnson and Washington tied for first with 33 points each. Art Tysk was nosed out at the tape in the high hurdles to come in second, with Harold Kuslick, fourth. Don Davis heaved the discus 105 feet for second place. Mel Carr came in second in the 100-yard dash, and Louis Moore, fourth. Clyde Bartlett and Frank Ganas picked up a point in the high jump. Louis Moore was upset by one-half of an inch by Kassekert of Johnson in the broad jump, and Enkel finished up in third.

Water Sports

The Mechanic Arts Swimming Team had a successful season with only two defeats. The Trainers scored decisive victories over all opponents with the exception of Central and Cretin. Nathan Verson, captain of the team, was outstanding. He took first place in both the 220 yard free style and the 100 yard free style events in all the meets.

The Water Polo Team also had a successful season. They too, were defeated only twice. Nate Verson was the captain of the team. Nate, center forward, and Arnold Bernath, right forward, were the outstanding players of the team. They kept the opponents on the defensive most of the time.

Golf and Tennis

A group of fifteen boys answered the call for golf candidates given by the new coach, Mr. E. F. McKee. With the return of two veterans, Jim Magnus and Clayton Peterson, Coach McKee made a strong bid for a place in the city conference trying to better the third position the golf team took last year.

Eighteen stalwart sons of Mechanic Arts turned out for the tennis team of 1935 under the coaching of Mr. Krueger. With the return of three veterans, Paul Markoe, Sterling Morton, and John Dettfach, the team is putting up a great fight to regain the championship they held two years ago. After the annual tennis tournament, those boys who remained in the finals and semi-finals constituted the Mechanics team in the high school league. Included in the tennis schedule were Johnson, Harding, Central, and Humboldt.

BACK ROW: A. Phillip, R. Carlson, C. Falkowski, C. Smith, L. Leedberg, W. Tysk, S. Morton.

Gym Teams

The apparatus team, organized last year by Mr. Elmer Wachter, gym instructor, is made up of boys who are skilful in performing on gym apparatus.

The team takes part in assemblies and has regular competition with other schools. They also placed second in the city meet last year.

Frank Den Bleyker was high point man with Roland Carlson, Eugene Struck, Don Davis, Morris Wynn, and Philip Whitney close seconds. Russel Kammerstad is captain. Mr. Wachter is the coach.

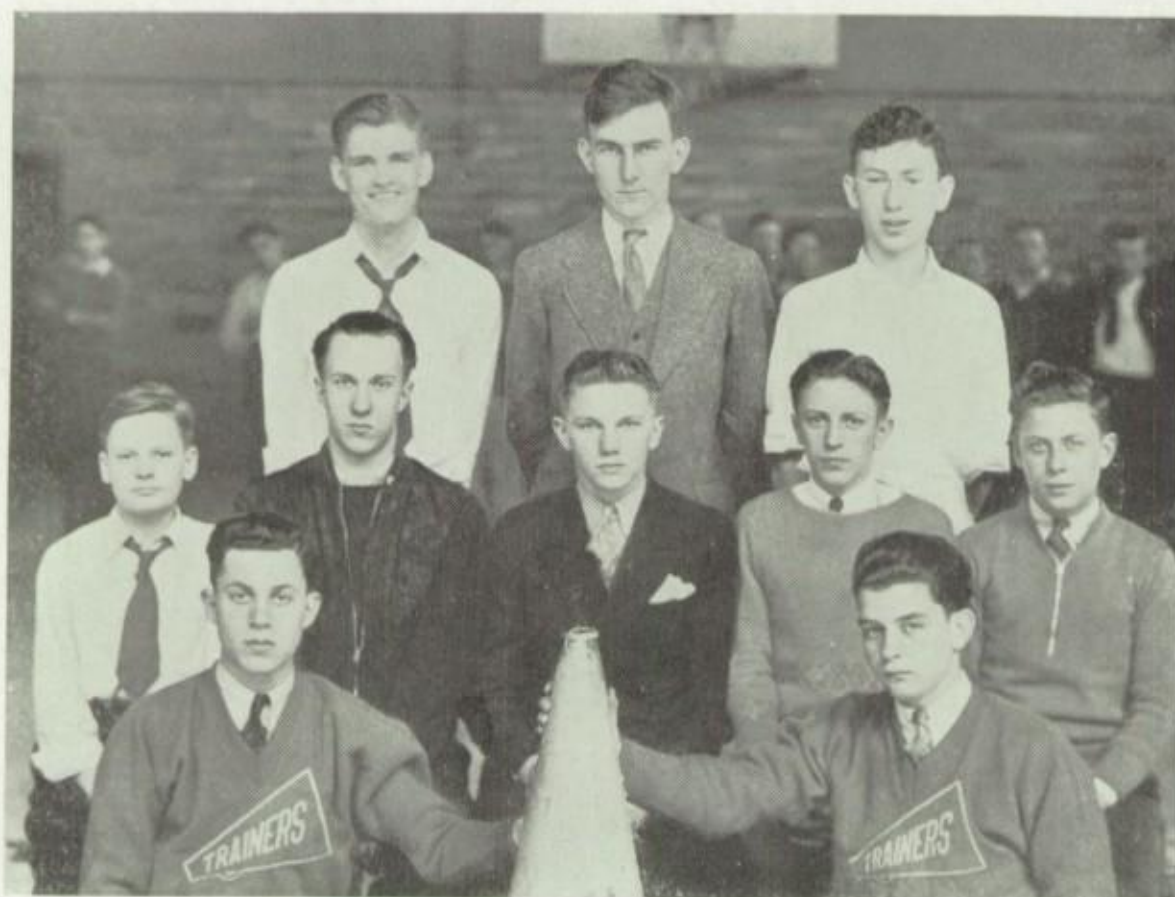

Two intramural basketball tournaments were staged this season under the direction of Mr. E. A. Wachter.

The first tournament was open to any team consisting of boys not on the varsity squad. McDermott's Flyers, captained by Tom McDermott, were the eventual winners, triumphing over Jandric's Cosmopolitans in the final contest.

The All Nations tournament began March 25, with teams representing six nations entered. In the finals, the Irish outclassed the Swedes to win the title by a score of 40 to 20.

J. Hartigan, E. Verhulst, J. Gaherity, T. McDermott, G. Jessen, R. Carr, D. Metcalf.

BACK ROW: J. Hostraiser, R. Hultengren, O. Bisnow.
 SECOND ROW: F. Croft, H. Olson, A. Rubbelke, L. Hudak, R. Lovich.

Sports Officials

The spirits of the teams and the spectators were stimulated by two stalwart cheer leaders, Louis S. Rosenberg and Harold I. Goldberg. The managers were as follows: Jim Hostraiser, golf; Oscar Bisnow, tennis; Fred Croft, apparatus; Albert Rubbelke, swimming and water polo; Leo Hudak, track; Robert Lavich, basketball; Harold Olson, bank; and Richard Hultengren, financial manager of basketball.

Mr. Wood, with the assistance of Mr. Cohen and Mr. Wright, turned out a football team that tied for second place in the high school race.

Mr. L. A. Torwick built up a team in basketball that tied for third place for the season of 1934 and 1935. Mr. Krueger has had considerable success in his coaching roles for the past thirteen years. Under his guidance, the tennis team has placed high in the city standings.

This year the golf team was coached by Mr. McKee.

Mr. Elmer Wachter, better known as "Prof.", physical director and coach of the apparatus team, has seen service with the school for almost two decades.

Mr. Cohen, Mr. Krueger, Mr. Torwick, Mr. Wood, Mr. Wachter, Mr. McKee.

BACK ROW: Markoe, Kommerstad, Gorg, Nelson, Verhulst, Erickson.
 THIRD ROW: Bader, Grovhoug, Kehr, Ales, Hammerstrom, Zeipelt, Hanson, Biagi, Davis.
 SECOND ROW: Mr. Wood, Handt, Huesman, Buetow, Hostraiser, Magnus, Peterson, Cravath, Dittfach.
 FRONT ROW: Sanford, Foster, McCarthy, Strane, Goldie, Anderson, Enkel, Zellar, Carr, Stein.

Boys' "M" Club

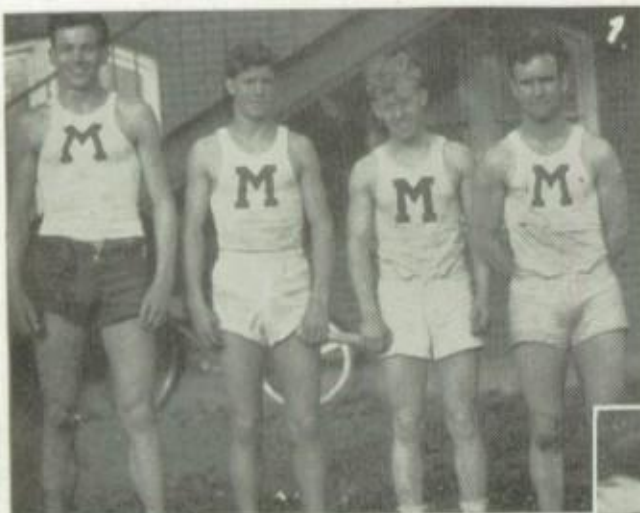

The "M" Club is composed of boys who have earned an "M" for participation in school athletics. It fosters a strong bond of friendship among the athletes, and by cooperating with students and faculty helps to promote school spirit.

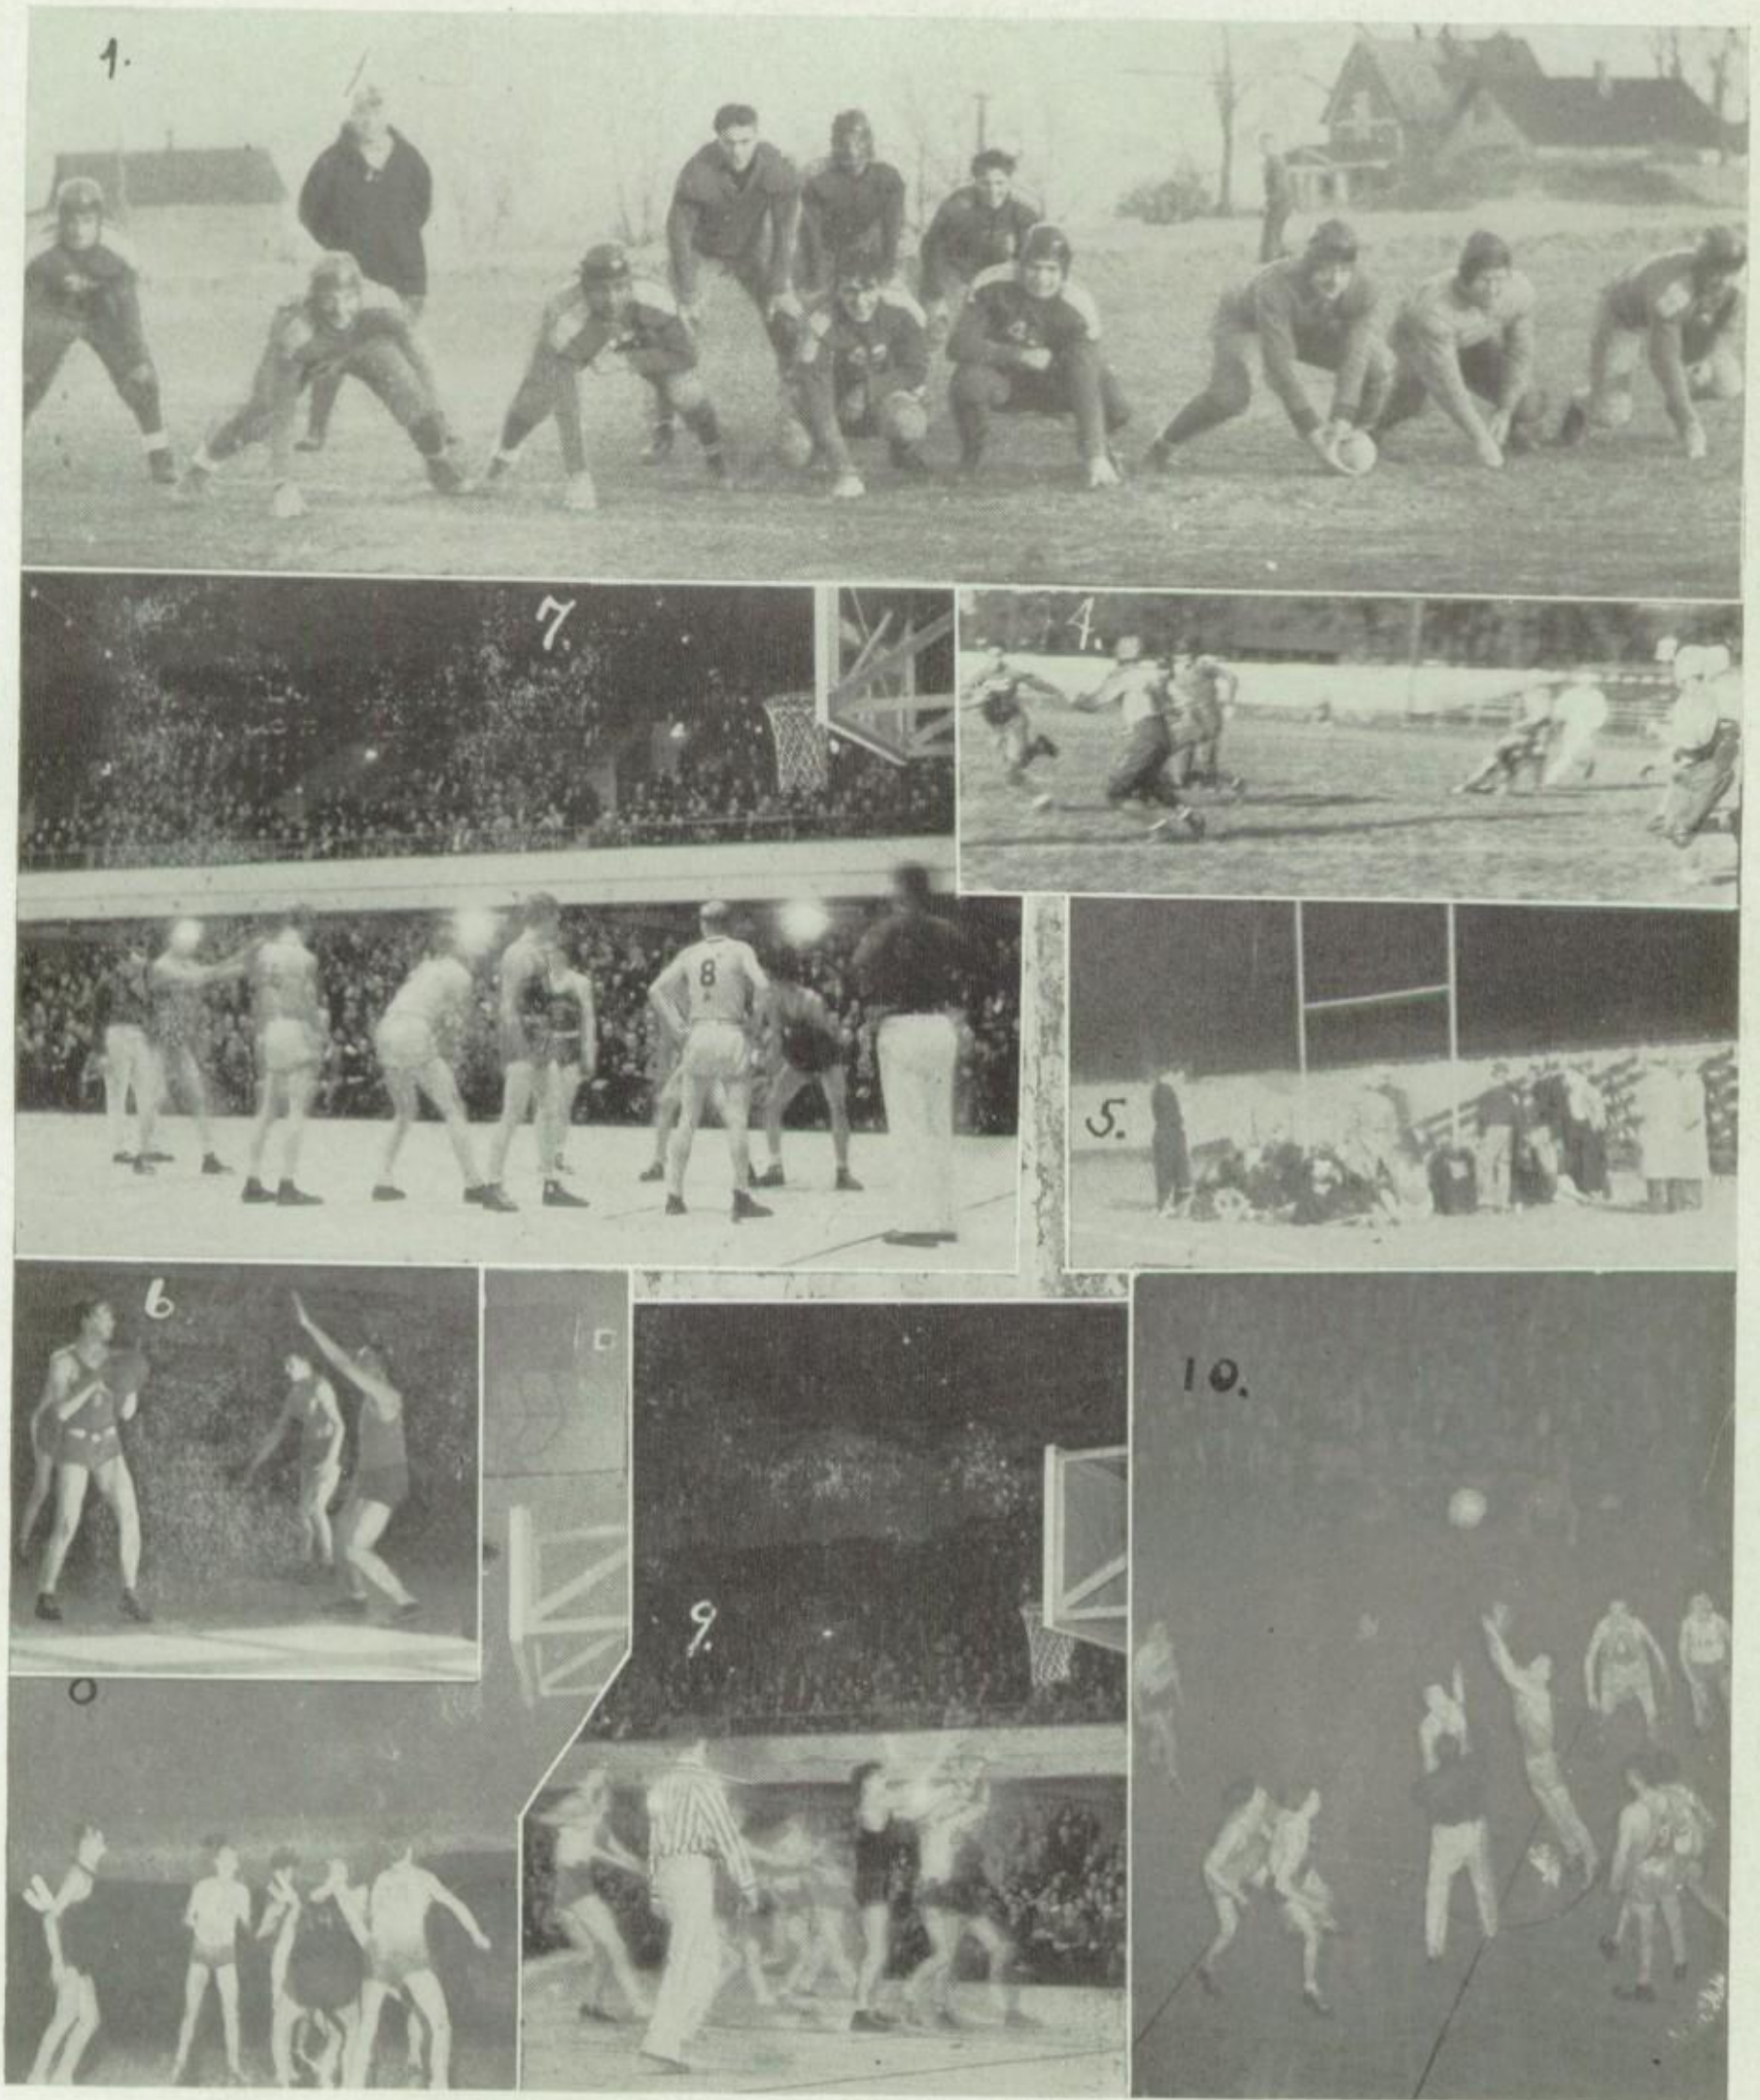

Ed Stein is the president; Gene McCarthy, vice-president; Earl Zeller, secretary; and Roger Zeipelt, treasurer. Mr. Wood is the adviser.

The annual football dance was given at the Coliseum. At the annual Alumni dinner at the University Club members were the invited guests.

February 28, members promoted a Sunlight dance in the gym for the benefit of the swimming team.

1. Half-mile relay team won third place in state meet. LEFT TO RIGHT: Felberbaum, Strane, Wells, Carr.
2. Carr taking second and Moore, fourth in city meet 100 yard dash.
3. Ganas clears in city meet.
4. Strane winning his heat of the 440. Carleton Interscholastic meet at Northfield.

1. The first team.
4. Tommies go for Ales.
5. Coaches Wood and Cohen talking to the team at the half—at the night game with Washington.
6. Practice in the gym.
7. Brooks making a free throw in the first Johnson game.
8. Field goal made by Fahey (not in picture) in the second Harding game.
9. What's this?—Sanford taking a shot in the Harding game?—We'll bite.
10. Tipoff in that fateful second Humboldt game. (Every Mechanics player is in the picture.)

BACK ROW: Nellie Sioris, Helen Dzik, Miss Ek, Miss Brocker, Miss Bumgardner, Lurine Bue, Phyllis Brinks.
FRONT ROW: Lillian Braun, Evelyn Flynn, Mrs. Raniser, Alice Peterson, Genevieve Dunn, Beridine Downey, Mrs. Gilson.

Girls' "M" Club

The Girls' "M" Club seeks to promote interest in athletics and to further the spirit of good fellowship and good sportsmanship.

The Student "M" Club began in 1926 under Miss Irene Johnson (now Mrs. Ransier), the girls' gym instructor. The members were the under-graduate girls who had received their letters. The Alumnae "M" Club was organized by Miss Johnson in June, 1927. All alumnae letter girls were considered members. But in June, 1933, the alumnae and the student "M" Club groups joined forces as the Girls' "M" Club.

Mary Emerson is president; Irene Manning, vice-president; Alice Peterson, secretary; and Maxine Olson, treasurer.

The Club, to raise money for archery equipment, sold arm bands, pom-poms, and pennants.

The annual banquet was held in the Granada Room of the St. Francis Hotel.

WORKING FOR POINTS TOWARDS THE COVETED MEMBERSHIP IN THE "M" CLUB

BACK ROW: Dennisson, Hanson, Tice, Adams, Bacon, Grace, Gehrke.
 SECOND ROW: Mrs. Irene Ransier, Blitchfield, Munkholm, Hertz, Waldner, Radmann, V. Proue, Gruber, Schultz.
 FRONT ROW: Wagner, Pester, Naylon, Simpson, M. LaTurneau, Kingsbeck, Minogue.

Girl Leaders and Referees

The Leaders' Club is composed of girls selected for their executive ability and athletic skill by Mrs. Irene Ransier, who seeks to develop initiative and responsibility.

To insure uniform training, the girls meet on Wednesday afternoon in the gym. The leader is commander-in-chief of her class. She grades the record chart and supervises the squad leaders, each of whom has jurisdiction over one-fourth of the class. The shower captain, locker captain, and key captains are also responsible to the class leader. The emblem of the class leaders is a badge, the word "Leader" monogrammed in white on a blue field.

The referee must be a member of the G. A. A. and proficient in basketball, volleyball, fieldball, soccer, kittenball, badminton, tennis, and deck tennis. They referee one period a day for a semester and receive fifty points G. A. A.

The G. A. A. girl selected as referee must give impartial decisions, have a thorough knowledge of the rules of the game, for the smoothness of the game depends on the ability of the referee.

TUMBLING TEAM

BACK ROW: A. La Turneau, Fisher, Kelly, Halgerson, Reichle, Felger, Buetow, Miller, Wigen.
 FIFTH ROW: Judds, Staubitz, Stevens, Wagner, Parker, Aslessen, Bathke, Enkel, Geister.
 FOURTH ROW: Kolling, Carr, Schmoller, Lange, Carroll, Butler, Minogue, Gruner, Chase, H. Nelson.
 THIRD ROW: Katz, Kirzner, Mattson, Roache, Wolf, Waldner, M. La Turneau, Fratto, Lauer, Naylon.
 SECOND ROW: Gruber, Hart, M. Johnson, Mich, Phalen, Kubow, Leary, Grace, Charpentier, Dzik.

Girls' Athletic Association

The Girls' Athletic Association, under the supervision of Mrs. Irene Ransier, consists of high school girls who have proved themselves to be alert, both in physical strength and mental ability.

Each year they hold tournaments in all sports, in which girls are divided into teams and eliminated until the best team remains. This team is given points which count toward a letter.

Girls who have received eight hundred points are presented with letters. Those obtaining one thousand points or more are given the All-City letters, the highest possible honor that can be bestowed on any G. A. A. member.

Officers of the G. A. A. are Vasilla Maschogianis, president; Evelyn Flynn, vice-president; Anna Mae Ziegler, secretary; Lillian Braun, treasurer.

Outstanding activities were the Jinx dance held after school in our gym. The skating party held at the Hippodrome January 29 was a gay affair.

BACK ROW: Tice, Hertz, Pardon, France, Otterstad, Ward, Noreen, Mitchell, Norris.
 SECOND ROW: Sibert, Seashore, Johnson, Larson, Jenner, Parnel, Alexander, Sommers, Henderholtz, Thomas.
 FRONT ROW: Brensike, Cummings, Rossback, Stokes, Moschogianes, Lee, Warricks, I. Hetu, Roabis, Brinks.

Mostly Boners

Kathryn Dietsch, the petite treasurer of the senior class, can't just get the use of the two baskets in the office straight. The other day when Mr. Hillard asked Kay to drop an out-going letter in the basket, Kay carried the letter to the waste basket and dropped it in.

The Pope sent missionaries to Christianize the Anglo Saxons in 55 B. C.

A girl in Miss Ginsberg's composition class wrote that a lampshade was palatable. When asked what the word meant, she replied, "The dictionary said palatable means 'tasty'. I wanted to use a word less common than 'tasty'".

Promptly at six o'clock Mr. Raymond drove up in front of the house where he was to take dinner. He was received with surprise by his hostess, but nevertheless he was ushered into the living room. He had been sitting there for over a half hour and yet was the sole guest. He became more embarrassed as the time went by and finally summoned courage enough to ask if he had come on the wrong evening or at the wrong time.

His hostess replied, "You see, Mr. Raymond, we know you to be always a little late, so we asked you to be here at six o'clock and the others at seven."

While speaking of the farmers' march on the capitol, Mr. Critchet asked the class, "What are the farmers going to do today?"

Smart student: "They're going to town."

Mr. Shirck (to class): "Will current pass through pure water?"

Dave Gleckman: "It will if the water's got acid in it."

Miss Bocker (Physiography teacher): "Johnny, what is quartz used for?"

Johnny (absentmindedly): "Er-ah- I don't know, Miss Bocker."

Miss Bocker: "Sure you do, Johnny; use your head."

Johnny: "Oh!"

Mr. Griffin carefully explained the gram molecular theory of figuring out the capacity of an article. Then he asked June Phillips how she would ascertain how many beans were in a certain jar. June calmly replied, "Why, Mr. Griffin, I would count them, of course."

In Miss Creglow's advisory group there happened to be a young man with the very profane label of Randolph Damm. On the first day of the term program cards were being handed out.

"Damm!" Miss Creglow shouted in the usual voice. The surprised class laughed loudly.

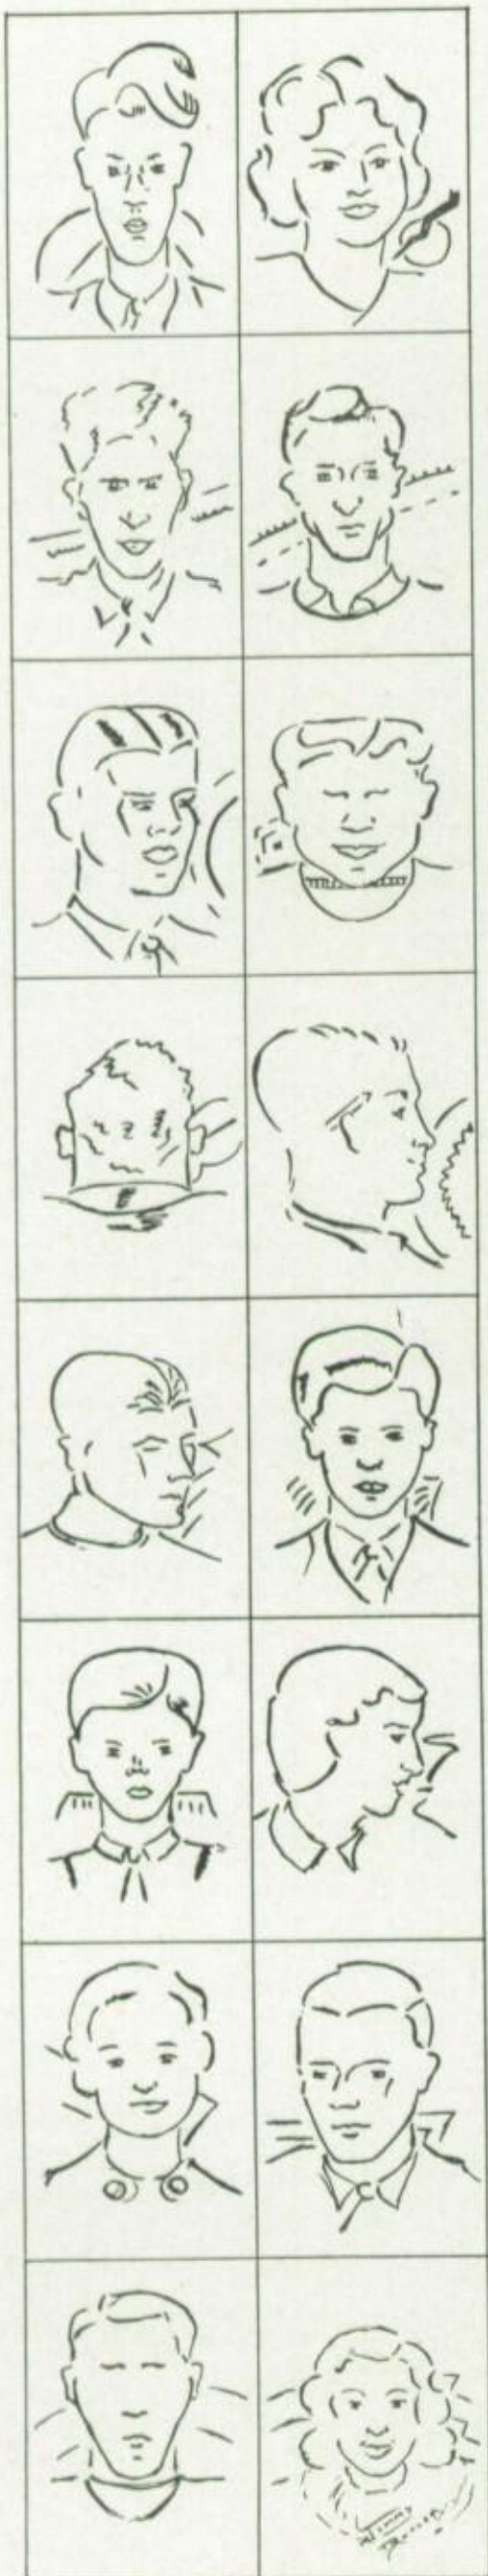

"I—ah mean, Damm, Randolph!" blurted out the much confused teacher. Miss Creglow's smiling face was a vivid vermilion as Mr. Damm arose to retrieve his card.

When Mr. Mettling was teaching English, near the end of the term a young lady (probably campaigning for an "A") approached him uttering these words of cheer, "Do you know, Mr. Mettling, you've learned me more about English than I ever knew before."

Miss Kellerhals told the members of the Nature Club to make birdhouses for their next excursion in the woods. Ed Turner made a bird-house without an opening for the bird to get in. When Miss Kellerhals asked him what kind of bird would live in that house, he clamly answered, "A woodpecker."

Miss Turnbull (giving a test on "Paradise Lost"): "Where was Satan when the story opened?" Later, when she was correcting the tests, she found all pupils had answered that question, "In hell."

"But that's not what I meant!" she ejaculated to the remaining pupils. "I meant where in hell was he?"

GEORGE RYSGAARD

Here's president George with hair so curly;
To watch the birdies, he rises early.

VIRGINIA BURRILL

Virginia Burrill of character strong
Has always helped when things went wrong.

JOE BISNOW

Joe, though brilliant and tall, enjoys a good laugh
When he writes sports and humor for the "M" Staff.

ED GERAGHTY

Football games or auto races,
Ed is found at all these places.

BUDD KASK

Budd is short with blond hair on his head.
He says his grades are never in the red.

ED STEIN

Stein, a student big and strong,
Is the first to leave at the second gong.

NATE VERNON

Spring and with it Nate Vernon,
Who interprets classic dances in person.

JIM HOSTRAUSER

Jim was a swell ticket manager,
A good grid player, and a darn nice feller.

ROGER ZEIPALT

Zeip, a guard on the football team,
Tells stories that make the hearer scream.

DWIGHT BOHMBACH

Dwight, tallest of "Seedlings", is six feet four
From the top of his head to his feet on the floor.

PETE PAMPUSCH

Pete is the boy who draws everyone's face;
If he isn't in the Cogwheel office, look some other place.

KATHLEEN CODY

Kay edits and acts with equal grace;
We just love to see her smiling face.

CHARLOTTE MULLIN

Charlotte likes to rake in the money
For class, for play, but she's a honey.

FRANKLIN PERRIN

Franklin, an editor of high renown,
We think him best in our home town.

JACK TALLEN

Jack had all the luck with curly hair;
The rest of us boys don't think it's fair.

VIRGINIA KRAUS

Virginia, from the "Romantic Age", with friends galore
Carries notices all over the second floor.

RAY ANDERSON
Our friend Ray blushes so nice;
He thinks football of life the spice.

CELIA MARZITELLI
Celia, our secretary, has the sweetest smile;
We all hope she keeps it a long while.

MARY MARUM
Mary Marum, both short and sweet,
As editor, she holds the reigning seat.

BOB DOTSON
 Bob studies hard and dresses neat;
 When the girls look at him they smile so sweet.

MEYER GOLDIE
As a football hero, Meyer is shy;
This only shows his standards are high.

BOB PRESTHUS
With a basketball—an eagle eye,
With the weaker sex—"A Sweetie Pie"

TONY ZEULI
Tony, the boy of musical fame,
We call him vice-president by name.

LURINE BUE
Lurine, our coed who is always neat,
Writes a column on the "Cogwheel" sports sheet.

EARL ZELLER
The girls all like our handsome "Cutie" Zeller;
He is better known as the candy seller.

JAMES ENKEL
Jim, a track man, as fast as a deer;
He's on the traffic squad and everything around here.

STANLEY HAMPL
 "House-a-fire" Hampl was in the play
 But he's an architect, they say.

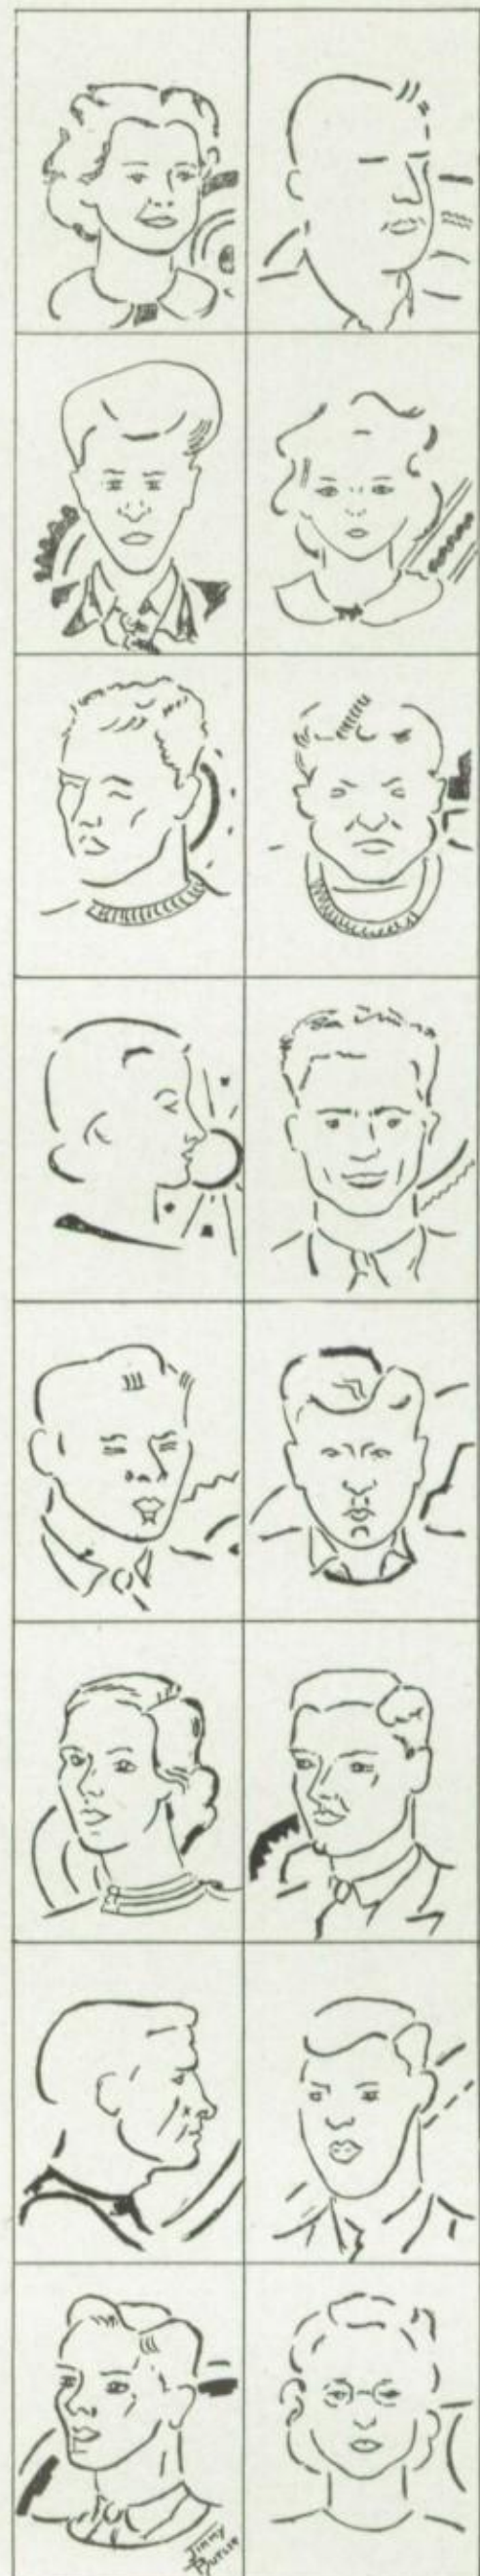

FRANCES PEARSON
Fran takes notes in shorthand well,
And the way she dresses is just swell.

PINKY NELSON
Our football hero and a sports editor was he;
What a swell captain he turned out to be.

ED VERHULST
Ed has earned himself an honorable name
With his mammoth voice and football fame.

KATHRYN DIETSCH
Kay is as petite as she can be;
Our treasurer's lovely as any we see.

GEORGE STRANE
George, a star when on the track,
Will make us sad when he's not back.

Noted Couple Tied

The beautiful Gabrilovitch mansion was the scene of the wedding of Miss Yeusoppoff Gabrilovitch, daughter of Mr. Andrew Gabrilovitch, and Petruchio Hayloft, son of Hezekiah Hayloft, well-known ornithologist, all of Long Island.

The marriage was marked with the utmost formality. The services were read by the Rt. Reverend Mr. Foxhall Hunt of Great Neck, Long Island.

Gigantic bouquets of white camelias in tall, diamond-studded, silver vases adorned the entire house. The east end of the massive hall, for which the Gabrilovitch home is famous, was hung with cloth of gold curtains, and the marble balconies which look down the hall were draped with cloth of gold and silver. It was estimated that enough gold was contained in the total yardage to cancel the national debt with a coco-cola thrown in.

The improvised altar was a mass of white orchids, charming in its stark simplicity and purity.

The bridal procession formed at the head of the magnificent marble stairway and paraded blithely around the huge fountain in the center of the hall to the altar. Through a misunderstanding the New York Philharmonic Orchestra, which was hired for the occasion, burst into the delightful strains of the Anvil Chorus from "Il Trovatore."

The bride, who entered in a swooning state in the arms of her father, was resplendent in a gown of sheerest gold metallic cloth; her veil of spun gold hung from a diamond-studded coronet. She wore no jewelry, and carried a shower bouquet of yellow orchids.

The forty-two attendants were gowned alike in silver cloth fitting tightly around the neck and giving them the appearance of overstuffed cormorants. They carried massive bouquets of green petunias.

After a long oration by an unknown person who was afterward discovered to be one of the bridegroom's creditors, the solemn services were begun. After the Reverend Mr. Foxall Hunt had harangued the multitude for a half hour on the proper method of making coffee, it was discovered that his prayer book had been left in the butler's pantry and the chef wanted his cook book back.

A mob of twenty thousand persons attended the reception which took place later in the evening, although only five thousand had been invited.

The great mansion had been entirely redecorated. The masses of white camelias were replaced with dainty little clusters of mushrooms and brussels sprouts, a most unique and picturesque combination. The huge curtains of silver and gold cloth were replaced by a great number of pink and blue horse blankets, which gave a dash of gay color to the scene.

The reception had as its main feature a buffet luncheon. Poring over buffet, as usual, was Mr. Eustace Hayloft, brother of the groom. At the coffee table was Mrs. Hjalmar Guggenslocker, aunt of the bride. Mr. and Mrs. Gabrilovitch had as their guest of honor, Count de Shekels, who during the evening sang a solo, "The Volga Boatmen", and was accompanied by his grandfather on the guitar. Other guests were friends the Gabrilovitches had known in Russia: Count Dmitri Dmitrivitch and Count Yesdoo Shootittoff. There were also present representatives from forty-seven states and two gentlemen from Mexico whose identity was not disclosed when they left hurriedly with the priceless Gabrilovitch pearls.

The bride and groom are leaving on a trip to the South Pole: the bride wearing white gloves and carrying black overshoes—a most remarkable combination.
